CLINTON HIGH SCHOOL

Foreword

The sand in the glass has run its course and Time, the never ceasing hand of Time, which marks the joys and sorrows of the world, beckons us forward into the whirl of life. Thus far, for four years, we of the Class of 1928, have trod much the same road together, and now we are come to the inevitable parting of the ways. All of us will necessarily receive new impressions, make different acquaintances and, through experience, acquire broader and more widely varying views.

The purpose of Memorabilia XV, is to preserve and foster by pleasant remembrance, the spirit of unity and fellowship established during these four years. The task of completing a volume of this kind is an arduous one, brought about by much hard labor. However, we ask you to consider it kindly, not as a literary effort but as an earnest desire to bind together the flowers of memory by the threads of comradeship at dear old Clinton High. If this may be true, we shall feel that our book has not been written in vain.

Tribute to the Faculty

As we stand today on the threshold of the future we find in our hearts mingled feelings of happiness and regret; happiness at the prospect of trying that road that stretches so alluringly before us; regret at the thought of leaving Clinton High and all she represents in ideals and friendships.

Our happiness of today is due in no small measure to the patient and unerring efforts of our teachers. It is they who have guided us over the rough and trying parts of our journey. It is they who have led us through—yes, and out of that dense and gloomy forest through which one must travel before attaining one's road. And it is they to whom we now express our deep feelings of gratitude and indebtedness. We may have so impeded them that their task was made harder, that the journey was made more trying. For this we ask their forgiveness.

Yet regret must play its part in this, our epilogue. We are leaving Clinton High, that institution which has nourished us with her ideals and friendships. We are leaving you, dear teachers; you, who have made that institution; you who are that institution; you who have moulded us with your ideals; you who have befriended us in our hardships. Wherein should we not feel regretful. Yet this must be "good-bye," it is "good-bye." Our parting wish is that in the future your institution will flourish, your ideals will be exalted, and your friendships will be more numerous, dear teachers.

THE SENIORS

You will go out this June from cloistered halls
Of academic wisdom, from quiet walks
Beneath the campus trees, from starlit talks
Of youth and life and God. Your future calls
You into the swirl of cities and of men;
You will not come this way again.

You touch my hand and speak sweet, awkward words
Of thanks and parting. You will remember me
As long as singing birds and stars shall be—
And yet—
You will forget.

I watch you go—
I who have trembled for you, hoped, rejoiced,
And stretched a careful finger forth to guide you.

Your soul is a clean, white book whose pages glow
Scarlet and gold and blue—I shall not know
The ending of the story therein voiced.
Your soul is a fragile moth with pale gold wings,
New—broken from its chrysalis; it clings
Vibrant upon youth's stem; I shall not see
The beauty of your flight, radiant and free.
Your soul is a delicate plant I have watched unfolding
Green leaf by clear green leaf;
But you will flower far from my beholding,
So frail remembrance is, so rare, so brief.
Your soul is a small brown bird whose hesitant flying
I follow anxiously; I cannot shield
You from rough winds and storm. You flutter on,
A gleam of sunlight round you prophesying
Your soaring strength. Across the ripening field
You drift, and lift above the wood—on—on—until
You flash beyond the hill—

And you are gone.

GLADYS ELEANOR ANDRISKI

"Glady" "Glad"

Commercial Course

Varsity Basketball Team 4; Inter-Class Basketball Team 4; Hiking Club 1-2.

This is "Gladdie," seemingly the quietest girl in the class—but don't judge a book by its covers. She's just as noisy as anyone else when she gets in the gym. "Glad" was our star forward on the basketball team and was its mainstay. And could she play? We'll say she could!

Many were the times the ball was lightly and surely thrown into the baskets due to our "Glad's" sureness at making baskets. And not only was she on the inter-class team but also our varsity girls' team, and what a fight our girls made on the Armory floor every Friday night before the big game commenced!

"Gladdie" was a regular attendant at all the High School games. It just wouldn't have seemed right without her.

"Glad" and "Nancy" do their Latin together every morning between 7.40 and 8 o'clock. Maybe it's because "Glad" went skating the night before.

Our "Gladdie" is going to join the white-capped, white-aproned ranks. The song, "I Don't Wanna Get Well," will again be popular. Au revoir, "Glad," the best wishes of '28 go with you into the future.

Favorite Expression—"Is that so?"
Favorite Occupation—Eating candy.

GERTRUDE ALEXANDRIA BAIER

"Geity" "Gertie"

Commercial Course

Inter-class basketball, 4; Pageant.

"Oh, Gertie, got an extra pencil?" That's what greets "Gertie" every morning, when she comes to school. Did you ever see her without one? She is known as the generous girl with plenty of pencils and nickels. At recess, "Gert" is the center of popularity in the "grab-your-doughnut" circle.

She is a model of silence in the Hall (after the last bell) but presto chango when she gets out. She likes studying, especially history, because she gets called on first and then has the ha-ha on the rest of us.

"Gert" is quite a basketball player, if you should ask the Juniors. She can sling more bluff to the girl she guards than a teacher before a test.

"Gertie" has been taking commercial studies until this year, but then she discontinued them probably because she intends to go into training. As a nurse, we know "Gert" will be a success.

Favorite Expression—"Watcha ma' call it."
Favorite Occupation—Being lazy.

"Jo" always did her best
To make each school activity a success

JOSEPHINE ADELINE BOYLAN

"Joe" "Dearie" "Josie" "Wy-lets"

College Course

Associate Business Manager Class Book; Debating Society; Junior Prom Committee; Minstrel Show 4; Cheer Leader.

We now present our cheer leader, "Jo" Boylan. "Jo" and "Nancy" Tessier certainly know all the "ins" and "outs" of cheer leading. Not only do they keep the crowd in cheers but they also keep them in laughter. Everyone enjoys a game when "Jo" and "Nancy" are there and each lends his support to make the cheering a success.

Last year "Jo" was one of the soloists in the annual Minstrel Show. She certainly was good and she carried out her part to perfection. We wonder where "Jo" got those Bowery characteristics that night. And who would think that "Wylets" are "Joe's" favorite posies?

Anyone who has ever been in "Jo's" classes knows how she can add life to them. Every now and then, one hears a "Well!" coming out of a complete silence. That, of course, comes from "Jo." She also knows how to get the funny side of Virgil and that is going some!

But don't get the impression that "Jo" is never serious. She studies and has her lessons every day.

"Jo" is going way out West to Indiana next year. She intends to enter a school out there. Of course, we know that "Jo" will be a faithful and loyal student to that school, as she was to Clinton High. She will also make everlasting friends there, as she has done here.

Clinton High wishes you the best of luck and all the success possible in whatever vocation you enter upon, "Jo."

Favorite Occupation—Avoiding afternoon sessions.

She has only one enemy in the world—the clock

ANNE EDNA BOYLE

"Anna" "Nan"

Normal Course

Junior Prom Committee; Minstrel Show 3-4; Glee Club 2-3-4; Book Staff Assistant Editor.

When you gaze upon "Anna's" picture, you get the impression that she is one of the dignified members of our class. But oh! how deceptive appearances can be, for hasn't she selected the rear of the Hall for her permanent position during Senior year?

"Anna" attends most of the school socials and has helped to make our minstrel shows a success with her solos, for can't she sing! Have you ever heard her? Well, if you haven't, you should, for "Anna" is one of the few good soloists of our class.

Anne is also one of our apt pupils (especially in Chemistry), and is always willing to help us poor mortals in some difficult problem.

Her recitations usually savor of study, but occasionally she fails to burn the midnight oil, and although she doesn't seem to bother with the masculine element of this town, our suspicions are aroused and we wonder.

Boston University is the next stopping place for Anne in her quest for higher learning. At least that is her choice at this time,—her ambition being to become a teacher. May all the success you deserve come your way, Anne.

Favorite Expression—"Well, you never can tell."
Favorite Occupation—Racing the Clock.

Common sense is not so common

ANNA FRANCES BRODERICK

"Annabelle" "Annabee"

College Course

Inter-class Dramatics 3; Debating Society Treasurer; Senior Show; Varsity Debating Team; Honorary Member of Historical Society.

Junior year a new member joined our ranks. Anna came to us from our neighboring town of Sterling. With her charming personality it did not take her long to make friends, and they were far from being few. Neither did it take her long to show us what she could do in the line of studies. Anyone who looks at the quarterly testimonial list knows what she can do. This does not mean, however, that Anna is the class grind, far from it. She enjoys and has her good times as well as the rest of us. Sometimes she tells us about the parties she goes to, where she certainly enjoys herself.

As a member of the Debating Team, Anna certainly deserves not a few words of praise. Previous to her advent into Clinton High she won prizes for speaking. This was a great asset to her in both debating and theatricals. Oh yes! Anna has theatrical ability, too. Her adaptation to character parts was perfection itself. Much more could be added to Anna's glory if space permitted.

Anna plans to enter Worcester Normal and then to further her education at B. U. Law School. So don't forget when you are seeking legal advice in the future that Anna is to be a lawyer. Best of luck from '28.

Favorite Expression—"Well, I'll be ——."

Favorite Occupation—Thinking of a better argument than the other person's.

The girl who's worth while is the girl who can smile, when you bring her home in a Ford

DORIS MARIE CADARETTE

"Dot" "Dearie" "Dorrie"

Normal Course

Junior Prom Committee 3; Junior Dance Committee 3; Minstrel Show 1-2-3; Glee Club 1-2; Hiking Club 2; Pageant 1.

Doris is one of the gang up in the back of the hall, and she has always been one of the most popular girls in the class, as shown by her abundance of friends of both sexes. However, Doris devotes most of her attention to a certain party! And there's hardly a week goes by without Doris coming in and describing a very heated argument that she's had with some one—and, well, "it's all over." However, the next day finds Doris in the best of spirits. Oh yes, they're made up!

Doris is very fond of dancing and never misses a dance up in the Town Hall always accompanied by—oh well, the certain party.

She is also very much interested in athletic activities, and is always seen at all the High School games at which she sometimes gets rather excited and gives vent to her emotions by loud cheers, etc.

Doris hasn't quite made up her mind as to where she'll continue her education, but she leaves C. H. S. with the best wishes for her success in whatever she undertakes.

Favorite Expression—"I don't wanna."

Favorite Occupation—Riding in a Ford.

I'll speak in a monstrous little voice

RICHARD BARNEY CAFFERELLI

"Bony"

Normal Course

Inter-class Basketball 1.

"Bony" is one of our most studious boys, and it is not an unknown fact that he stays up until the wee hours of the morning studying French, Greek, Latin, German, U. S. History, or what have you?

Richard was a generous and kind helper to us when we were overcome by the Grammar Review in "Francois."

By his quiet nature and his helpfulness to us in time of need, Barney has made legions of friends who will always remember him.

"Bony" plans to enter Fitchburg Normal and you know what that means. As a teacher we predict great things for Barney. All his attributes here in High School seem to be included in a teacher's makeup. Just be yourself, Barney, continue your good work. Good luck in your chosen profession and don't forget that the class of '28 is pulling for you.

Favorite Expression—"Really?"
Favorite Occupation—Studying.

Here she comes—there she goes

VIOLA BEATRICE CARD

"Lola" "Vi"

General Course

Gym Exhibition 1-2; Glee Club 2-3; Minstrel 4.

Dear Reader, we are now about to introduce you to our "Lola." She is certainly our favorite (Auburn-haired) young chemist, who wonders why "dilute H2 SO4" burns.

"Vi" is like the famous "We"—you never see her without her famous smile. She is everyone's good pal. Nothing disturbs her, and her naive remarks and good humor make her a favorite with her classmates.

"Cardie" is an artist at playing her "uke" and is a great little entertainer. Have you ever heard "Vi" sing? Those of us who have been fortunate enough to hear her will vouch for her in that capacity. "Vi" was a member of our Glee Club, and also was in the Minstrel Show Chorus in her Senior year.

Viola's great ambition is to have her name cards read, "Miss Viola Card, R. N." Viola has planned to enter the Hospital later and we are sure she will make a splendid nurse, and succeed in making her patients better, happier, and brighter in her presence.

Farewell, dear "Vi," may your life be just one long laugh. Sincerest wishes from your classmates of 1928.

Favorite Expression—"I'm laffing."
Favorite Occupation—Talking.

MARJORIE ELIZABETH CARRUTH

"Midge" "Marge" "Margie"

College Course

Member of Class Book Staff; Member of Debating Society 4; Honorary Member to Historical Society; Member Junior Prom Decorating Committee; Minstrel Show 2.

When "Midge" was a freshman very little was heard from her as far as talking was concerned. Yet, then, and through her four years, as her "testies" have shown, she has proved one of the most brilliant in '28. But Sophomore year she showed us how lovable, joyous and witty she could be. These characteristics have continued through her high school years, and we know they shall carry her happily and proudly through life.

"Marge" has always been strangely attracted to athletics. Not so much that she enjoyed taking part in them as she did observing them. Whenever there was a C. H. S. game "Midge" was always there rooting a wee bit harder than the rest. We wonder why?

"Margie" says that her favorite occupation is driving the Buick. And almost every afternoon one may see that she is not far from the truth for she usually has the car out for its daily tuning up.

Her helpful motto was "Work before pleasure" and she was never content unless all her subjects were thoroughly absorbed. But after her work was finished she heartily enjoyed herself.

Marjorie plans to enter Wellesley next year preparatory to teaching French. If her "right man" doesn't come along we know her career will be a huge success, yet we trust all her cares will be little ones.

Best luck and good fortune from '28.

Favorite Expression—"What day is it today?"
Favorite Occupation—Driving the Buick.

I'm a bold, bad man

JOHN JAMES CECCHINI

"Bull" "Doc" "Chick"

College Course

Orchestra 1-2-3-4; Inter-class football 3-4; Debating Society.

"Next!" We open the story of John's life with one of his own favorite sayings, for John's one of our tonsorial artists at which trade he will continue to grind out an education. John showed the stuff that was in him when he learned a trade which would give him some return, while we poor mortals are just as far from any earning capacity as ever.

"Chick" is one of the easy going members of the class not seeming to have a care in the world, surprising both us and the teachers with brilliancy one day, and the opposite, the next. He's one of the best known members in the class and surely no one could find a truer and better classmate.

"Chick" was one of the regulars on our class football teams and did his share in stopping the opponents from piling up a score, he receiving as his reward for faithful services only a few bumps and bruises.

And did you ever hear "Chick" play the violin—Oh! but you must, for as a member of the C. H. S. school orchestra he played for graduation, etc., for the past few years.

"Chick" will complete his education at Tufts (we believe he's to be a doctor) and he takes with him, on leaving Clinton High the hopes of the class for a successful career. Good Luck, "Doc."

Favorite Expression—"OKMNX."

Favorite Occupation—Selling hair tonic to bald-headed men.

HAZEL RUTH CHANDLER

"Petite" "Shorty"

Commercial Course

Minstrel Show 4; Hiking Club 1-2-3; Glee Club 3; Typist, Class Book.

Quietly and earnestly, Miss Hazel has worked at her lessons and she has won worthy marks during her four years at Clinton High.

"Shorty" has given many people the impression of being very quiet, but anyone who is intimately acquainted with her, knows better.

She certainly shows speed in her Stenography Class, both in taking dictation and in transcribing it. In her Bookkeeping Class she was usually the first to find a trial balance, then the next morning everyone would have one.

Hazel has always been a good rooter at all Clinton High School games.

Much of the real work of the class book, that of typing, was done by Hazel, with her associates. The character of this work you can judge for yourself by glancing through the book. The Class of 1928 extends to her its most sincere thanks for her part in making Memorabilia XV what it is.

Her whole ambition is to be "Somebody's Stenog." We wish you good luck for the future, Hazel; just persevere and success will come your way.

Favorite Expression—"My Godfrey."
Favorite Occupation—Powdering Nose.

MARION LOUISE CHASE

"Buddy" "Marrie"

College Course

Editor-in-Chief, Class Book; Senior Show; Inter-class Dramatics 1; Debating Society; Honorary member of Clinton Historical Society, and Women's Club.

Since the time Marion entered High School, she has been "Buddy" to everyone. Aside from being one of the most popular girls in her class, she has a very high rating in her studies. She was chosen as an honorary member of the Women's Club and the Historical Society. When "Buddy" fails to recite her lessons, something surely must be wrong.

But "Buddy" does not spend all her time pursuing her scholastic career. She never fails to attend all the High School games and good times. She is a clever little actress and she is one reason why the Senior Show this year was such a great success. She is also Editor-in-Chief of the Class Book. We won't have to say much about that for we can just take a look at the book. And don't forget "Buddy" drives a Packard! Between two and three o'clock in the afternoon she may be seen driving around town. She seems to visit CERTAIN sections of the town quite frequently.

Marion looks forward to her English classes with a great deal of pleasure. Of course we all know it's because she is so fond of English! It is also reported that she intends to be an English teacher. If that is true, everyone knows she will be a successful one.

After High School, "Buddy" intends to go to Wellesley. There, as here, we know that she will make many friends who will never forget her personality, her pleasant smiles and her witty remarks.

Your classmates of 1928 send you their best wishes of good fortune in the years to come, "Buddy."

Favorite Expression—"Quick! Who's that?"
Favorite Occupation—Driving a Packard.

DONALD SAWYER CHILD

"Stretch" "Donny" "Fuzz"

Technical Course

Class Book Staff; Varsity Football 2-3-4; Varsity Baseball, Assistant Manager 3; Varsity Baseball, Manager 4; Varsity Basketball 1-3-4; Class Basketball 2; Senior Show; Inter-class Dramatics 2-3-4; Minstrel Show 3; Junior Prom Committee.

In looking over the list of "Donny's" achievements, we find that those along athletics and dramatic lines predominate. On the football field for the last three years we have had the benefit of "Don's" lanky arms particularly in the position of tackle, and it is with a feeling of great relief that we have seen him gently encircle the heels of some enemy halfback as he was about to break away.

On the basketball court his length of figure was a big asset and helped him greatly in getting the tap and caging baskets.

No less important than his athletic achievements are his accomplishments on the stage where he has made quite a name for himself and done much to help along the dramatic prestige of the class.

"Stretch's" plans for the future have changed quite frequently of late. At one time, according to reports from French B he was going to get himself a herd of cows and settle down to the quiet and uneventful life of a cowboy out in the golden West. However, in a recent interview he let it be known that such rumors were unfounded. A short while ago we thought that "Donny" had "Sea-fever" but this ambition to become a sailor also seems to have disappeared. In all probability he will go to Exeter and thence to Harvard where we trust the success which has accompanied him in High School will attend him.

Favorite Expression—"Give 'Fuzz' a shot."
Favorite Occupation—Waiting for "Bottles."

She was quite studious so it seemed; wise, fair spoken, and esteemed.

MARY ELEANOR CONLON

"Molly

Normal Course

Inter-class Dramatics 2; Debating Society 3; Glee Club 2; Minstrel Show 2; Senior Librarian Debating Society.

There is no need to introduce our reader to Mary, for who doesn't know her? Mary is one of our tallest girls. She is full of good nature and even when she is not in view, her hearty laugh can be heard ringing out from some secluded corner of the Hall. Her generous nature and her willingness to take a joke as well as to give one, have endeared her in the hearts of her classmates.

Mary is always the center of a group clamouring for help in German translation, for she is one of our best pupils. When Mary is called upon in class, everyone settles back in relief, for she can always be depended upon, either for recitation or for—well, what other device is frequently resorted to by us seniors?

Have you ever seen Mary act—no, not in class, but in Dramatics? Well, if you haven't, you certainly have missed something, for Mary displayed unusual talent during the Inter-class shows when we were Sophomores and Juniors. Don't forget either, that we won the cup during our Sophomore year.

Mary intends to be a nurse and plans to enter Georgetown Surgical School for Nurses. Wishes for the best of luck go with you, Mary.

Favorite Expression—"Just a second."
Favorite Occupation—"Roamin' around."

WILLIAM PAUL CONSTANTINO

"Billy" "Mike" "Willie"

College Course

Editor-in-Chief Class Book; Senior Show; Debating Society 4; Honorary Member of Historical Society.

At last we come to "Willie" the versatile member of our class. For Shakespeare had nothing on our "Bill" when it comes to showing "universality" because "Willie" has attained success in dramatics, arguing, studies, or what have you.

As an actor "Con" needs no introduction for who will ever forget his acting as Mike Ross, the villian, in the Senior Show. And what a deadly combat with Child!

But in his lighter moments "Willie" is quite a humorist. As a member of the famous comedy team of O'Toole and Constantino he has been the sensation of the class this year. Miss Kerrigan will testify to that.

But "Willie's" activities are not limited. To him belongs the success of our Class Book for he was Editor-in-Chief. His great efforts to make Memorabilia XV a fitting memory of the Class of 1928 have been crowned with success.

"Bill's" fiery ambition takes him to the portals of "Jawn" Harvard and we are certain that the energy and studiousness that marked his path through Clinton High will carry him through college and to fame. Best success to you, "Bill" from the Class of '28.

Favorite Occupation—Asking questions in class.
Favorite Expression—"Whaddya mean?"

A youth of labor with an age of ease

PETER HENRY DESPOTOPULOS

"Pete"

College Course

Class Football 2-3-4; Class Basketball 2.

Here we have "Pete," a member of the class who has been very active in inter-class activities. He participated in inter-class football and basketball. Peter has been one of our best right guards and it is unfortunate that he did not try for the varsity where he would be sure to succeed. "Pete" shines on the gridiron and it has been noticeable that the opponent's plays were seldom directed through Peter's position.

"Pete" is quite popular, his ability to take a joke as well as to give one and other characteristics of a good nature having, no doubt, something to do with it. He has never refused some struggling Junior or Sophomore assistance in their studies. In the chemical laboratory, Peter is an expert (although we must admit that the spots and scars on the walls of the Lab. are due partly to "Pete's" attempt to invent some new chemical compound).

But his class affairs are not always attended with such disastrous results for "Pete" seems to get along without much difficulty in his subjects. He minds his own business and devotes his recess and other spare time in apparently deep reveries and silent contemplation, the subject of which he has never divulged.

Peter is undecided, as yet, where to go, but whatever your ambitions and wherever your destination may be, Peter, we know you'll reflect nothing but glory on '28 and C. H. S.

THOMAS ALPHONSE DUGGAN

"Tad" "Duggie"

College Course

Varsity Football 1-2-3-4;; Varsity Baseball 1-2-3-4; Varsity Basketball 1-3-4; Captain Varsity Basketball 3-4.

Wow! who'se driving that Studebaker? It's Tommy Duggan, Clinton High's star athlete. Football, basketball or baseball, it's all duck-soup for "Tiger." For four years "Tom" has been a mainstay on all our athletic teams, and his good work and clean playing was rewarded by his election to the captaincy of basketball for two successive years. "Tom" was always one of our fastest forwards and his versatility in the court game was useful to our coach. "Duggy" called the signals in football, acting as the field general for the last few years and his work was always of the best. In baseball "Tom" is one of the hurling staff. Lets hope for a brilliant athletic future for him.

Every night "Duggy" faithfully carries home a miniature library and just as faithfully places them on his desk the next morning. In the meantime he occasionally studies them, and moreover "Tommy" always knows his lessons. (Ask Mr. Comiskey to tell another).

Thomas is quite a lion among the ladies both in school and out,—mostly out. He shakes a mean ankle and knows his dance-hall tactics.

"Tommy's" future is undecided but we all know he'll be a success in whatever he undertakes. So long "Tommy," best of luck from '28.

Favorite Expression—"Hello! Wot's this?"

EDWARD RICHARD DURKIN

"Duke"

College Course

Class President 3-4; Inter-class Football 3-4; Senior Show; Debating Society; Minstrel Show 1; Junior Prom Committee; Honorary Member, Historical Society.

And now gentle reader permit us to present "Eddie" our sterling chief executive. "Ed" is one of the most, yes, the most popular boy in the class for he was chosen to lead the destinies of nineteen twenty-eight, both in our junior and senior years. Through his efforts, our Junior Prom proved to be a big success and our Senior Show went over big, thanks to his ceaseless viligance and supervision.

"Duke" is also one of our humorists, one of the Buster Keaton type. His sober faced jokes generally throw a class into hysterics and his keen wit, especially in French, always relieved the tension. The Keith circuit manager would do well to look our comedian over.

"Ed's" humorous disposition has been already displayed on the stage for did he not bring down the house as "Sergeant Tim" in the Senior Show?

In spite of all his activities, "Ed" is very studious and generally finds time enough to pursue the gentle arts of study. For when September is ushered in, "Eddie" will continue his studies at Holy Cross. We rest secure in the knowledge that the admirable qualities that "Duke" displayed at Clinton High will continue to be manifested at Holy Cross. Adieu, "Duke," old scout, and good luck.

REGINA ELGORT

"Gene" "Jeanie" "Re Jean"

Commercial Course

Hiking Club.

"Gene" can control her emotions in school and any place where she is supposed to and she is admired by every one for it. She is very quiet in her classes, so quiet that we often wonder if the teachers forget to call on her.

It is rumored that in bookkeeping she is a shark. "Jeanie" never has to worry about handing her work in on time.

"Gene" possesses an unusually sweet disposition and never have we known her to get any way peeved at any of her classmates. Although she is usually quiet, yet, occasionally, in a certain room when the teacher was lecturing, "Gene" entertained those fortunate enough to sit near her.

She expects to find her future work in an office as a private secretary. If she applies herself to her future work as she has to her school work here, she need not worry about her future success, for it's application to one's work that makes the really successful man or woman. We are sure she will be successful in whatever work she chooses and the best wishes of her class go with her.

ALICE PATRICIA FORHAN

"Al" "Cream-Puffs"

Normal Course

Business Manager, Class Book; Senior Show; Inter-class Dramatics 2-4; Minstrel Show; Junior Prom Committee; Glee Club.

Big of mind and heart, it is not at all to be wondered that Alice is one of our most popular girls. We would be justified in saying that she is as popular with the girls as the boys. She is always cheerful and happy and does her best to keep others in the same mood.

Alice has only one bad failing that we know of, and it is this, she has a weakness for arguing with Mr. ———? You see we are not mentioning any names because it isn't necessary. Alice's debates have served as a popular form of amusement for the rear of the hall. Many times they were the cause of a sermon on "No talking after the last bell."

Nevertheless studies never interfered with "Al's" pleasures. She may be seen at all the functions in the Town Hall, and elsewhere, with a "Certain Party." "Al" sometimes helps us to enjoy ourselves in the Town Hall. She has great theatrical ability and as leading lady in our Senior Show she will never be forgotten. She is an exponent of the adage that "Actresses are born and not made."

"Cream Puffs" plans to be a hairdresser and have a Beauty Shoppe of her own. She will be a success, we are sure, if personality is any asset to business. Lots of prosperity in the future, "Al."

EDWARD FRANCIS GIBBONS

"Ed" "Eddie" "Gibbie"

Commercial Course

Varsity Basketball 4; Class Football 2-3-4; Class Basketball 2.

"Ed" is the enigma of our class for he is one of those rare combinations of a good athlete and a good student. All of us are acquainted with "Eddie's" athletic achievements. His prowess on the gridiron and basketball court is deserving of special mention.

It was "Gibbie" who pulled the game with the Sophomores off the ice by a spectacular 60-yard run. It is "Eddie" who has been playing steady basketball for Clinton High seconds all season. And it will be "Ed" who will perform on some lucky team next season unless our calculations are amiss.

"Ed" does not like to have it known that he is a good student, but the fact is he can't help himself. Although he does not have to use a basket to carry home his testimonials still "Ed's" marks were high enough to carry him through High School without much worry.

Such is this unusual student who will enter "Missouri Agricultural College" in the fall. Best wishes, "Ed," from the Class of 1928.

MARY BARBARA GIBBONS

"Mamie" "Lou"

Normal Course

Class Book Staff; Inter-class Dramatics 2; Debating Society; Minstrel Show 2-3; Junior Prom Committee; Glee Club 2-3.

"Mamie" is another member of that famous gang in the rear of the Hall. One of her favorite occupations is telling us what she did the night before. Three guesses what it was.

Mary is also proficient in manufacturing alibies. She always had some alibi to get out of a "scrape" and especially out of Gym. She has favored it with her presence not more than ten times this year. How does she do it? We would like to know. Besides relating her experiences and concocting alibies, "Lou" studies occasionally. Not like most of us she does not need to burn the midnight oil, as her marks show.

Who said the prophets were dead? Evidently they didn't count on "Mamie's" showing up. If her prophecies come true we're all sure to be successes in life. "Lou" can strut her stuff on the stage, too. She was a member of the Sophomore cast that copped the coveted cup.

"Mamie" is going to favor Fitchburg Normal with her presence next year and '28 wishes her the best of luck for the future.

Favorite Expression—"Oh, you would!"

Favorite Occupation—Suggesting parties for W. T. Grant Co.

WILLIAM ATKEN GILSON

"Bill"

College Course

Class Basketball 2.

"Bill" is not bashful, at least we do not think so, neither is he backward—far from it. Still he has gained from his associations with us during our four years in High School the distinction of being the quietest boy in the class. For all that, "Bill" is certainly a regular fellow and takes as much interest in school and class affairs as any of us. You can always see him in the "gang" during recesses and after school—but he's by no means considered an intruder there. But still he does not go around promisculously but always maintains the same quiet, unassuming attitude which demands attention when he voices an opinion.

"Bill" is a plugger and that type invariably gets ahead and usually lands somewhere far in the lead of the type of youth who's always blowing. In completing the College course he has had no difficulties, has caused no troubles, and has been a tried and true friend of teachers and pupils alike.

During our Sophomore year you will remember we had Inter-class basketball in that so called gym of ours. You may recall that "Bill" was a member of our team of that year. That shows Class spirit doesn't it, and only last year at our first annual Field Day—didn't "Bill" strut his stuff on the cinder track? They call that school spirit, for it takes a little loyalty to the class and school to attempt to defeat our star athletes.

Keep plugging "Bill" for it is the plugging type that the real great come from. In going out into the big game of life the Class of 1928 extends its congratulations on your splendid record while one of us and also extends its well wishes for a successful future.

EDWARD CHARLES GOODWIN

"Eddie"

College Course

Treasurer 3-4; Class Book Staff; Varsity Football 3-4; Senior Show; Inter-class Dramatics 1-2-3-4; Debating Society, President; Minstrel Show 4; Junior Prom Committee; Orchestra 1; Honorary Member of Historical Society.

No doubt you all know "Eddie," one of the most active members of our class. Just get into conversation with "Ed" and before long you will have made up your mind that he is one of the wittiest and most intelligent persons you have ever met. This winning way of his, however, isn't restricted to fellow pupils, for the teachers have come under his spell also and consequently he enjoys good companionship and friendship with them.

As "Eddie's" list of activities shows, he is really the most versatile member of the class. He is the exceptional jack-of-all-trades for he masters all that he pursues. Whether it's in the intellectual or athletic line, he makes it a point to establish a good reputation for himself. As an actor he is "sans pareil." He has proved himself indispensable to the success of any and every dramatic presentation of the class (for "Eddie" has been in every show of ours).

Then again he has been an important factor in the move to usher a rennaissance of debating into the school. He worked hard and, as results show, successfully, for if all Clinton High's representatives do as well in future debating tournaments as "Eddie" has done in our first, the Hall will be adorned with more cups.

"Eddie" intends to follow the pursuit of business in the capacity of a big banker and we of '28 are confident of his success for he is going to add to the well established foundation acquired at Clinton High an extended business training at Harvard University. Go to it, "Ed;" we are with you, for we anticipate to point out to you in pride some day and say, "We told you so."

CATHERINE AGNES GORMAN

"Red" "Caddy" "Kate"

Normal Course

Minstrel Show 2-3-4; Basketball 1-2; Orchestra 1-2-3; Glee Club 1-2-3.

We now introduce Catherine, one of our carefree classmates. One's first impression is likely to be that Catherine is quiet, but after one's with her for a few minutes she proves to be quite the opposite. She is full of "Pep" and noted for her sunny disposition, for who ever saw "Caddy" without her bright smile?

"Caddy" doesn't believe in studying too hard or worrying about her marks, for she always succeeds in passing. She is one of those bright pupils, who can smile and go through the hardest questions whether in U. S. History or in French III, whereas we, who have to plug all the time, look with envy upon her.

"Red" is quite a sport, and is very alert as regards "Athletics," for she sure can get around and pass the ball, as we remember in our Sophomore inter-class games in basketball.

"Caddy" also has a liking for skiing, tennis, and swimming. All these things we can class under one head, and the reason why she likes them.

Catherine intends to honor Sargent's School of Physical Education with her presence, and with her sunny disposition the class of '28 knows that Clinton High will be ably represented at Sargent's and later on when she becomes a Physical Instructor.

Favorite Expression—"That's a help!"

Favorite Occupation—Swimming.

DEXTER GOSS

"Deck" "Dex"

General Course

Varsity Football 1-2-3-4.

Dexter, one of our football stars, needs no introduction. He helped uphold the honor of Clinton High in many a hard fought battle on the gridiron. Not only in action but in appearances "Dex" is the regular hero type. All the girls agree that "He's some sheik" and the boys all say he's a "regler feller."

He is one of the most sociable of our boys and can be found at all the School Dances making them so much the more pleasant for all.

Dexter will tell you he isn't very enthusiastic over his studies (who is?) but he certainly enjoyed his High School days and so considers it time well spent. Of course there are days when he is enticed by the "Great Outdoors." 'Tis then he is missing from home and school and later has a very interesting conversation at the office (and why?)

His classmates and all who know him will follow his future with interest although his vocation is not decided. He will probably wear the blue uniform of Uncle Sam's mail carriers and help carry the flunks to other students. But whatever profession he will choose we know it will be a success. Well, Dexter, the best wishes of '28 are with you.

JOSEPH THOMAS HARRITY

"Joe"

College Course

Inter-class Football 2-3-4; Inter-class Basketball 2; Inter-class Baseball 2.

"Joe" is one of the quiet boys of our class, but still he is one of the most popular with those of us who know him intimately. "Joe" does not like the limelight (he should meet Lindbergh) and tries to keep in the background as much as possible, but sometimes it is hard for him to evade publicity. For instance, ability is bound to come to the fore on the football field and "Joe" played on three of our class football teams. He was our field general during the last year and although we were not victorious "Joe's" work for the class was auspicious.

Although "Joe" was never a grind, he always seemed to know his lessons. And he wasn't averse to imparting his knowledge to the rest of us "who were out last night." His studiousness and abilities always seemed to win the teachers' confidence which couldn't be said of the rest of us. It must be a gift but "Joe" claims it is only luck.

"Joe" is bound for Holy Cross College where his intellectual powers will surely carry him to success. We place our confidence in you, "Joe," and we feel secure that success will come to you. G'bye, "Joe," and good luck.

Favorite Expression—"Get out."
Favorite Occupation—Threatening Constantino.

JOHN WILLIAM FRANCIS HASTINGS

General Course

Class Book Staff; Inter-class Football 2-3-4; Inter-class Baseball 2; Inter-class Basketball 2.

Here we have a student who commands the respect of his classmates. In his quiet unassuming way he has won the admiration of his teachers because of his class room ability, and his high scholarship has been the means of helping many a classmate along the weary way.

Although the gridiron and the baseball field have not claimed the services of John, he has ever shown his willingness and spirit in helping to place Clinton High near the top. However, John also showed his class spirit and did his best at every inter-class sport in which our class participated. He was one of our backfield quartet on this year's class football team and took a few bumps for the honor and glory of the class. As an associate editor of our book, John proved himself a faithful and efficient worker, much of the editorial work falling on his shoulders.

There is sure to be a cordial welcome for him wherever he may continue his studies and his friendly disposition is sure to carry him upward. In passing from our school he has our well wishes for success and we know that future days will bring him his fondest ambitions.

STANLEY GREENE HAYTER

"Stan"

Technical Course

Class Football 2-3-4; Orchestra 3-4.

"Stan" is our class "Spectator" for he is the unassuming youth who mixes with the fellows, listens to the conversation but never utters a word. In fact, "Stan" is so studious that we don't see much of him at all. However, it may be that Stanley's inconspicuous nature keeps him from coming into the limelight.

"Stan" is one corking football player. Anyone who opposed him in the inter-class games will testify to that. Boy! what a mean tackler. "Stan" would surely make the varsity if he did not devote all his spare time in putting the daylight in the Clinton Daylight Store.

In his odd moments Stanley plays the violin and as a member of the High School Orchestra he has aided in dispensing charming music at graduation times, etc.

Stanley is undecided as to what his vocation is although he shows a leaning toward a technical education, but whatever he undertakes he will have the best wishes of the class of 1928.

MARGARET MARY HENIGHAN

"Peg" "Margie"

Normal Course

Junior Prom Committee 3; Girls' Basketball 2-3; Glee Club 2-3-4; Track Meet 3; Hiking Club 2-3; Minstrel Show 3.

Now, cast your eyes upon Margaret, one of the cleverest and wittiest girls of our class. "Peg" it was, who often gave us a helping hand if at any time we had our lessons unprepared.

"Margie" is a real girl, but the one thing about her that puzzles even the shrewdest of us, is when she finds "time to study." Quite often we see her going from school without any books; and, lo, the next day when she is called upon to recite she knows it very well. In all probability we had spent the evening studying while Margaret,—but—check.

"Peg" is just over-brimming with good nature, but she scarcely ever allows it to come to the surface except when "one of the bunch" begins sight translation in German.

Margaret was a great find in the basketball field and certainly made a wonderful hit in that sport.

We shall always remember "Peg" as a happy, carefree, and winsome member of the class, for, in fact, we cannot picture her in any other light.

Margaret intends to take up nursing and pursue her studies at the St. John's Hospital. The class of 1928 will always remember you, "Margie."

THOMAS MICHAEL HENIGHAN

"Pickle" "Hank"

General Course

Class Football 3; Minstrel Show 2; Debating Society.

"Tommy" is one of the best-liked boys in the school. There is a good reason for this, and here it is. Wherever "Tommy" is, there is sure to be some fun. "Tommy" has certainly kept the faculty guessing since he matriculated in C. H. S. But he knows when to be serious and he is just as capable of filling this part as he is of being the life of the party.

For the last few years, "Tom" had us thinking that he was girl-shy, but he certainly pulled a fast one on us, for "Pickle" is a firm believer in the old saying, "A prize worth getting is one worth waiting for." And he certainly got his prize in the class of '31. "Tommy" is also quite a dancer. The girls say he shakes a wicked instep—and how!

The click of the ivory balls is enchanted music to this boy. More than once the click of the ivories drowned out the tick of the clock about 1.30 P. M.—and when it was too late to go to school, "Tom" just stayed at his game.

"Tommy" plans on entering the business world and we feel sure that Wall Street will be as glad to get him as we are sorry to lose him.

Good luck, "Tom," you have the best wishes of the Class of '28.

ALICE MARIE HESTER

"Al"

Normal Course

Secretary 4; Debating Society; Minstrel Show 4; Hiking Club 1-2; Glee Club 4.

Alice is one of our quiet as well as small girls. The quiet ones are few and far between but there are exceptions to every rule. But we sometimes wonder if there isn't something misleading about her quietness as the old saying tells us "Still runs the water where the brook is deep." There is one consolation in being small, however, because they say that good things come in small packages. Sometimes Alice breaks her silence in Room 8, but maybe that is the result of environment. (Anyone who took French Period D understands what is meant).

Her popularity among her classmates was shown by their choice of "Al" for Secretary. She has proved herself capable and efficient.

Can Alice do French? She will often be found in the rear of the study hall at recess, helping some poor unfortunate or delinquent student with his or her "Les Miserables."

Alice intends to be a nurse and we are sure that her patients will be glad that this was her vocation. Your friends of '28 wish you luck and happiness.

Junior Prom Committee; Debating Society; Minstrel Show 3; Inter-class Football 3-4; Reception Committee.

We get leave to introduce a man who, to use a much abused biographical expression, "needs no introduction." Of the many fellows who entered with us as Freshmen, he immediately acquired our interest and commendation, and he has shown himself a loyal friend ever since.

Books are his hobby. Not text books, but the latest hot novels and romances are those which compel his interest.

There were times when George would seek the shrine of Terpsichore, and there glide over the waxen floor with all the grace and poise imaginable.

Now, when the staunch associations of four years become a memory, we realize that we are taking with us into the world a youngster whose untiring efforts have ever been directed to the assistance of his classmates.

We trust that he will be as active in his future work and evidence as much interest in the betterment of his mates as he has at High School. If he does, we'll hear from George as a success in future years.

MILDRED PATRICIA LISTER

"Pete" "Pat"

College Course

Class Book Staff; Inter-class Dramatics 2-3-4; Minstrel Show 2-3; Junior Prom Committee; Honorary Member Clinton Historical Society.

Mildred is one of the most popular girls of our class especially among the members of the opposite sex. This is shown by the many rides in "Bolton's" most classy chariot.

"Pat" has been a success in everything that she entered. She was in the Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Inter-class Shows. She contributed much to the success of all these, the former and latter winning first prize.

"Pete" is not only excellent in dramatics but also in athletics. In the Track Meet during our Junior year, Mildred won the high-jumping contest. All this participation in outside events does not keep "Pete" from being at the head of the class with regards to marks. Even though Mildred graces the City of Boston every week-end she manages to have her homework done on Monday.

She has also been very popular at the social events. All these successes in the past are certain to assure success in the future.

Mildred says that she intends to go to M. I. T. and take up a course of "Math." but we expect it will be Matri-Moni. Whichever it is the best wishes of '28 go with you.

College Course

Varsity Football 1-2-3-4; Varsity Baseball 1-2-3-4; Varsity Basketball 3-4; Senior Show; Inter-class Dramatics 1-2-3-4; Junior Prom Committee; Minstrel Show 3.

"Itchy" gained us some time in our Junior year and I think we will all agree that he has been a good addition to 1928.

His athletic ability is shown by the fact that he has made the football, basketball and baseball teams and has in each branch given a good account of himself. On the football field in his position as quarterback, on the basketball court as forward, and on the diamond at third, he has earned for himself the reputation of being a good athlete.

His efforts along dramatic lines have been no less successful than those on the athletic field and it is in a great measure due to his effort, that we owe the success of 1928's recent productions.

Although "Itchy's" plans for the future are somewhat vague, we think we can safely assume that he will continue his academic pursuits at New York University or Syracuse where he is already somewhat acquainted and it is the wish of this class that he will be as successful as he has been in High School.

Class Basketball 2; Glee Club 3; Minstrel Show 4; Hiking Club 1.

"Blondie" or "Curlie," as you know, is not one of our "dignified" seniors. If she was, she couldn't have been in "our gang" in the back of the hall.

Her ability knows no bounds, and she is a regular shark at German—especially in our before-class translations in which she naturally takes the lead.

Of course her season ticket takes her to all our Friday night games—and, Oh! what a rooter! Why, the games couldn't possibly have been successful if "Curlie" hadn't attended them.

Is it possible that we didn't mention in the beginning what a clever student "Curlie" is? The wonder of wonders would be the day she didn't know an assignment, some translation or grammar—And How! Just ask her to show you her many testies, as proof.

"Blondie" is also a musician, or rather a pianist, and—but a volume couldn't do her justice.

Just a minute—"Blondie" has confided her intentions of entering Framingham Normal, and we all know that she will make a great success of her Normal career, if we are to judge from her enviable High School record. And after graduation from there, into the teaching ranks—her personality and application assure us of her success as a dispenser of knowledge.

Now we have Elinor, one of our popular girls of '28. Elinor has been with us through our four glorious years and has made a host of friends.

Folks, we'll let you in on a secret. When it comes to serving college ices, "El" sure is there. And we all wonder why it is that so many of a certain sex go down to the Candy Shop.

As a student Elinor is right in the midst of us and that indicates much. She also attends all the High School games and even has one of those coveted basketballs!!

Elinor certainly has a good time at all the dances. Every one knows that. We wonder why Elinor seems to frequent the library so often. From out side appearances she is a great student of literature. Of course we may be wrong and we are only surmising.

But Elinor is certainly a friend to all and her classmates will not forget her very easily.

A business career seems to be Elinor's goal and business panics will be a thing of the past when she holds the reins in the commercial world. She intends to be somebody's stenog. We wonder who it will be.

All the luck that '28 could wish goes with you, Elinor.

College Course

Hiking Club 1-2; Glee Club; Minstrel Show 2-3.

Rather demure looking, isn't she? Still we can't always go by outside appearances, and we'll bet "Peggy" has her share of fun. Not only does Margaret get a great deal of enjoyment out of our everyday H. S. life but also brings in a bit of sunshine quite desirable to our class.

She sure was a whole ray of sunshine in our Junior year when she illuminated the paths which we trod with Cicero. Our daily gatherings around her desk at about eight o'clock verified this. Even Virgil came in for a little enlightment from our "ray."

Every quarter we see Margaret take a walk up to Mr. Cobb and relieve him of a number of "testies." We know by the number of "testies" she gets that she must be a welcome sight to the teachers, since most of us are "tres stupides"—at least according to our "petite institutrice."

Margaret has intentions of listening to a future generation reciting their A B C's. We certainly envy them and almost wish we might be starting in again with Margaret to guide our little feet. We would all ascend to the highest rung of the ladder with such a teacher and more than one of us might be heard to say, "All I am or hope to be I owe to my kindergarten teacher."

"Peggy" has not decided as yet what school she will honor with her presence. In any case, wherever she may eventually go, we are sure we will always be proud of her and will be glad to point her out with "She's one of 1928."Farewell, Margaret. Best of luck from your classmates.

Lo, behold, see, and all other such expressions, for here is the rip-roaring, fast-thinker, fast talker, and what not of the class. We don't know how he gets that way, but he surely is there in his line.

"Jack" has been one of our outstanding lights in English throughout his course and has shown promising ability as a poet and prose writer. An assuring climax came during his senior year when he combined the two classes of literature and produced a masterpiece of an essay to win the much coveted prize awarded for the best essay on Abraham Lincoln. Another thing that helped him greatly in this undertaking was his knowledge of History which he was always able to master.

Then again "Jack's" dash, grit and fight made him a wonderful asset to our inter-class football team. We don't doubt he would have made the varsity if he hadn't been too light.

As a debater, his same fighting spirit is shown, and to great success and advantage. There was nothing to bar him from making our varsity debating team, by no means.

"Jack's" got his eye on the teaching profession and we of '28 rest assured that there will be no slip-ups; he'll go through with flying colors as he usually does. We of '28 know a "good bet" when we see one, especially when we have been with him for four years.

A charming personality, an unassuming manner and pretty clothes all go to make Margaret. Needless to say she has made many friends during her stay with us.

Margaret seems to be quiet and shy but when you know her really well, you stop and wonder where you got that impression. At the mention of the ruby ring Margaret blushes so that we wonder again if there isn't something misleading in appearances. No doubt "someone" believes in the new adage which rivals "Gentlemen prefer Blondes."

"Marg" never lets business or studies interfere with her pleasures. This accounts for some of her "brilliant recitations," especially those in Chemistry?"

Hiking Club 1-2; Glee Club; Minstrel Show 2-3.

The quotation fits Emma to a "T" except for the "short." Far from being short—she is one of 1928's tallest as well as prettiest girls. However, neither of these advantages possessed by "Petite Emma" are what distinguishes her to her fellow classmates.

If there's laughter in a room, you can assure yourself Emma's there. Sometimes, however, she tries to be serious and succeeds for a few minutes.

Emma has taken up the Normal Course. Perhaps this means something and perhaps it doesn't. However, if perchance, in the distant future, Emma should be engaged in teaching "ABC," she'll be successful at it, according to our calculations.

Emma is rather well versed in the terpsichorian art and is seldom absent from the school functions where she is always accorded a merry welcome; indeed her absence would be keenly felt by some.

"Emmy" is rather undecided as to where she will continue her pursuit of knowledge but we can bank on it that wherever she goes she will be an honor to dear old C. H. S. With best wishes the class of '28 speeds you on your way, "Em."

"Midge"

Commercial Course

Vice-President 2; Inter-class Dramatics 1; Junior Prom; Committee Minstrel Show 2-3-4; Glee Club 2-3.

"Here she is! Isn't she nifty?" These are the exclamations, no doubt, of any of the casual readers of this book, when they come upon "Midge's" picture. Did you ever see "Midge" without at least three boy friends around her? We didn't. The boys certainly show good taste! As a model and as an actress "Midge" certainly showed her stuff, judging from her activities along these lines. Oh yes, and she also served as our capable Vice-President in our Sophomore year.

Marjorie is one of these care-free, happy go lucky persons and is never seen with the blues. With this disposition "Midge" naturally doesn't worry much about lessons. Oh yes, she just loves dancing and is seen at quite a number of our socials having a wonderful time.

"Midge" has not decided definitely as yet as to what her career will be but she certainly leaves us carrying away the best wishes from 1928.

MARY BERTHA MURPHY

"Molly"

Commercial Course

Mary, rather "Molly," became one of us as a quiet, reserved Junior. In the short two years she has been with us, she has found a permanent place in the heart of the class. She has worked diligently, and has successfully overcome the obstacles which confront late arrivals.

Mary has not entered into many of our school activities but we know the reason for that. It takes all of one's time in traveling to and from our suburbs, for you know that Mary is a Boltonite and that city is quite too far away to walk back for extra activities. So we'll excuse you, Mary, for we know that you would if you could. By the way, come to think of it, Mary is herself a chauffeur and a glance at her favorite occupation is enough to know that her time isn't all spent in making a "lady out of Lizzie."

We hear that besides being valet to a real car, Mary also "chaufs" a real typewriter and she certainly can click off the keys in great style. Her nickname should have been "Speed."

As to Mary's future, she has never broadcast to us her plans, but judging from her proficiency on the typewriter we wouldn't be a bit surprised to find her continuing along that line.

A girl like you, Mary, needs few prayers for future success, for the stuff you have shown during your stay here satisfies us that you will succeed. Good luck to a suburbanite.

JAMES EDWARD McNALLY

"Jim" "Jimmie" "Mack"

College Course

Varsity Baseball 1-2-3-4; Varsity Basketball 3-4; Varsity Football 3-4; Inter-class Basketball 2; Inter-class Football; Junior Prom Committee.

Behold one of the premium athletic members of '28. "Mac's" athletic prowess may be learned by merely glancing over his list of activities. Who can forget the wonderful catches made by our first baseman? However, his ability as a first baseman is not the only point that we shall remember. His fine work as tackle on our football teams caused him to be considered one of their outstanding members. During our last two successful basketball seasons we point with pride to "Jim's" outstanding work as guard, bringing honor upon himself and Clinton High.

But don't get the impression that "Mac" excells alone in athletics. He is not the strong bodied, light headed type. We notice that "Mac" and a certain petite young lady in "U. S." have a great time razzing each other, not always about history, oh! no!

"Mac" must have forgotten dancing when he put down his favorite occupation. He is seen wending his way quite often in the general direction of our leading nearby terpsichore parlors. Needless to say he excells in this, as practice makes perfect.

"Mac" intends to go to "Prep" school before entering college. What is our High School's loss is "Prep" School's gain in more ways than one.

Good luck and the blessing of Clinton High go with you, "Mac."

Next, folks, we turn the spot-light upon "Skin," and we see before us a tall, cheerful youth who has made a name for himself in athletics during his four years at C. H. S.

"Tommy" showed his athletic ability as center of our flashy, fast stepping, quintet. We will never forget his spectacular playing against Framingham High School which enabled us to overcome Framingham in three overtime periods and finally defeat them. This is only one of the many instances of his clean, spectacular playing.

"Mac" had a way of making us forget our troubles, and wherever he was, there was bound to be merriment, and anyone knows that if there was any "deviltry" going on, "Skin" had either started it or was there cheering on the side lines.

C. H. S. is surely losing a fine fellow and whatever "Tom" chooses for his vocation in after life, we know he will be a success.

Good Luck, "Tommy," from '28.

JOSEPH ANTHONY McNAMARA

"Mackie" "Joe" "Mac"

College Course

"Minstrel Show 2.

"Joe" is one of the diminutive members of our class but like Napoleon, "Mac" has some great qualities. First, "Joe" is quite a humorist as everybody who saw his work in the Minstrel Show will testify. Even off stage "Joe's" dry humor is continually keeping the class in smiles.

While "Mac" does not need a basket to carry home his testimonials, still "Joe's" marks were always high enough to satisfy the teachers that he was faithful in doing his work.

"Joe" is one boy who was never overcome with awe in the presence of a teacher. In fact, "Mackie" becomes rather pugnacious for he tries to pick an argument especially with Mr. Hynes. And it is not necessary to add that "Joe" does not always come out with his point of view completely crushed.

"Joe" is considered a quiet boy because of his inconspicuousness in school but those of us who know him intimately will declare that he is a sleeping lion.

"Mac's" plans for the future are indefinite but whatever he undertakes he will have the best wishes of the class of 1928. Stay up "Mac."

MARY CECELIA McGINNESS

"Mac" "Stuffy"

Commercial Course

Glee Club 4; Minstrel Show 2; Junior Dance Committee.

"Stuffy" is one of the smallest members of our class, but she's one of the big "noises," especially at the H. S. games. Nothing would have prevented Mary from being among those present. She was so enthusiastic, she often ran into the field as if to help the boys make a touch down. Ropes, fences or anything else did not stop Mary from leaving the rest of us and forming a cheering squad all by herself. We feared for her safety, many a time, when she had to run back to the sidelines again to keep out of the play.

"Stuffy" and "Nancy" are the "Katzenjammer Kids." They may be seen together at every game and at the H. S. social functions as chipper as can be. As a basketball manager, Mary was indispensable and a great help to the team.

Every morning when the other girls are discussing the events of the previous evening, Mary does her Bookkeeping. Three guesses why she didn't do it the night before; and the first two do not count.

As somebody's private "sec," Mary is bound to succeed.

MARY NAUGHTON

"Mae"

Commercial Course

Minstrel Show 3; Glee Club 2.

Mary entered the portals of Clinton High, the essence of demureness. She succeeded in retaining this shy attitude for two years. Junior year, however, the change was wrought and lo, you are gazing upon one of the liveliest girls of Clinton High. Mary is always brimming over with good humor, whether in class or on the street, and although the reason for her giggling is sometimes rather vague, she never lacks associates, in her merriment, for all fellow-pupils feel that when she laughs there is a wise humor which prompts it.

Although Mary has tried the patience of more teachers than any pupil in the school, we may still include her among our clever girls, in so much as she has succeeded in evading the gym for four years.

Mary can be frequently seen trudging back to class at two-thirty, although she claims to be an advocate of the one session plan. These P. M.s, however, put her in the best of humor, as well as furnish us entertainment the next day for Mary certainly can stir enthusiasm by her accounts of the previous afternoon.

Mary plans to matriculate at Burdett Business College when her High School days are over, for, as you see, she has taken a commercial course while here with us and evidently intends to follow it up in higher fields. If you win the favor of your associates at Burdett as you have won ours, Mary, we can assure you that you'll have nothing to regret. So let your disposition be as pleasant and winning there, as it has been here. That's our parting wish and desire.

General Course

Minstrel Show 3-4; Glee Club 3-4; Hiking Club 3; Track Meet 3.

The phrase, "Good things come in small packages," may well be applied to Rita. She is one of our short girls and this fact makes us wonder how her short stature can contain so much good humor.

Rita certainly has her share of good nature and it is always willing to assert itself at the slightest provocation. Her pleasant laughter as well as her witty remarks have always prevented our classes from becoming dull.

Although Rita didn't sit in the Hall, she did favor us with her presence every morning (in quest of homework).

Rita firmly believes that care is an enemy to life and therefore she seldom, if ever, worries. But then, why should she?—For is there any girl in High School who can refuse the pleading voice which Rita dons when borrowing homework? Certainly not, for Rita is a pal to everyone.

Rita has kept her outside activities very quiet, but you never can tell! Yet the keeping of things to one's self is sometimes an admirable trait and so we'll just stop thinking and add one more good feature to Rita's attainments.

Rita's plans for the future are rather indefinite at the time this is written, but in whatever she undertakes she has the best wishes of '28.

JOHN O'CONNELL

"Bottles"

General Course

Varsity Football 1-2-3-4; Captain 3-4 Varsity Baseball 1-2-3-4

"Johnny" has made his presence among us most felt through his baseball and football ability. On the gridiron, in his position as captain and center, his long experience, rugged physique, and good judgment made him one of the mainstays on the team and his fighting spirit kept the team going through many trying situations.

In his capacity as catcher on the baseball team he is no less efficient than on the football field. Here again his stature in back of the plate has kept many a faint hearted opponent from trying to steal home. His energy in backing up has helped avoid some costly errors which might have resulted from wild throws.

Of his plans for the future, rumor has it that John will immigrate to some college in the Middle West, probably the University of Indiana. It is the wish of 1928 that he will do as well in his future pursuits as he has in Clinton High.

Varsity Football 4; Varsity Baseball 2-3-4; Class Basketball 2; Class Football 1-2-3; Minstrel Show 2-3; Junior Prom Committee; Senior Sergeant-at-Arms Debating Society.

As we remember "Bill" from early years he seemed to be rather a meek and quiet fellow, but, as we know, time brings changes. During the past two years he has blossomed into quite a sturdy young man. It was not until last year that he considered himself husky enough to attempt anything in the football line. When he did, however, he gave a good account of himself at the end.

For the past two years he has been out for baseball and it looks as if he is slated for second base. If baseball ability runs in the family, as shown in "Johnny," "Bill" should have a successful season.

At present it looks as if "Bill" would be back to High School next year and then enter Johns Hopkins to study medicine or something along that line. We hope that he will keep the memory of 1928 bright next year and that when he goes away he will be successful in whatever type of work he may take up.

"Al" "Chief"

Glee Club 4; Minstrel Show 3-4; Debating Society 4.

Alice? We all know her well! She is one of our girls who could hardly be recognized without a smile.

We've always enjoyed having "Al" in our classes. She usually knew enough about the lesson to help us out and to convince the teachers that she knew the "whole" lesson. Especially was she willing to relieve the "chilly" atmosphere in some class-rooms—well, nuff sed.

Alice works two nights a week in Newberry's store. We often wonder if there could possibly be some attraction for her there. Who can tell?

During her four years in Clinton High School she has made scores of friends, and that can be said of very few of the rest of us. Alice is ever willing to lend a helping hand, if she can possibly be of any assistance to us.

As a debator, Alice proved that she would make a worthy successor of the great Patrick Henry himself, by her brilliant speeches in the Debating Society.

Alice intends to enter Bay Path Institute in the fall and we feel sure that she will bring renown and credit to C. H. S. and 1928.

Farewell, "Al," may your paths lead on to happiness and success.

MARGARET MARY O'MALLEY

"Peggy" "Peg"

College Course

Secretary 2-3; Minstrel Show 4; Junior Prom Committee.

If we depended on our auditory organs alone, we would hardly know of her presence among us; for "Peggy" is one of the quietest girls of our class. By this we don't mean that she isn't popular, as everyone in the class is dear "Peggy's" friend. Her extreme popularity is shown by the simple fact that she was for two years our efficient secretary.

"Peggy" never took part in any athletics but was always present to help the girls (and boys) by backing them up.

Margaret also has a temper that is not very easily stirred up, in fact, I don't believe any of us have ever seen her the least bit ruffled. We suppose that this is due to the fact that she never worries. This doesn't mean that she doesn't get good marks, it simply means she doesn't have to worry to get them. She is one of those lucky people whose motto is "Smile, and the world smiles with you;" and it certainly does with Margaret; she has the most engaging smile in the class.

"Peggy" hasn't as yet decided what course she will take up in the future, but we know that whatever it is she will succeed and the very best wishes of '28 go with her.

MARGUERITE MARY O'MALLEY

"Margie" "Marg" "Peg"

General Course

Varsity Basketball 4; Class Basketball 2-4; Glee Club.

"Margie" is the young lady with the particularly "bright" head. "Bright" in several meanings of the word, because "Margie" is the "Bookkeeping Shark!" "Margie" likes to study for every morning before school her book is open on her desk and she has a short answer for anyone bothering her.

"Marg" is a "whizz" of a basketball player. That's why we elected her captain. She easily made the big team this year when it was organized and in all our games both in the Armory and away from home she was the outstanding star. It seems too bad, in a way, that she has to leave the team for her place will be hard to fill. Basketball has made "Marg" extra strong (?) Ask Miss Maitland who broke through the wall in the "gym."

"Margie" belongs to the "corner clique," which is the reason why teachers get gray.

Although "Marg" was fitting herself for the business world, she has decided to take up nursing. We just know all her patients (and patience) will pull through.

"Here's to 'Caddy' the most carefree graduate of '28." If anybody saw her with a grouch on (except before a French test) that person needed his eyes examined. "Kayo" has originality plus. Just to be original, she talks after "Jack" sounds his little silencer. "Caddy" never went home over-encumbered with books, but she manages to get along without an over-abundance of "matinee invitations."

She attended all the H. S. games and social functions where no one ever heard "Caddy" complain of not having a good time.

As to "Caddy's" athletic prowess, feast your eyes ahead! Any day in summer you can see her and Louise smashing tennis balls, and wearing out the Lancaster Mills court, 'cause "Caddy" is the star tennis player "on our street." And in basketball "Caddy" can skid down the floor like greased lightning.

"Kit" is the humor section of all her classes (refer to Mr. McGrail). And certainly humor in her make up will be a great aid in her chosen profession of nursing.

And now we come to "Bean" and there is so much to say about him that we don't know how to begin. "Beansie" is one of the best liked members of our class because of his ready wit and helpful nature.

"Coach" was one of our foremost football players ("Bean" was our right end), and his clean, vigorous, spectacular playing was a feature of each game. "Bean" could never be called "studious," yet he never failed to obtain good marks.

"Bean's" next stop is Fitchburg Normal where he intends to follow in his brother's footsteps. Yes, you guessed it, he is the brother of the famous "Beansie," Clinton High's ex-star athlete, and "Coach" is surely living up to his name. GEORGE EDWARD O'TOOLE

College Course

Honorary Member of Historical Society; Inter-class Football 3;
Business Manager of Class Book.

You need no introduction to our uproariously humorous classmate. Everyone knows George; he saw to that this senior year, when he opened up and made himself one of the most outstanding pupils in the class. Not only was he convincing to us but also to the faculty for this year he received more testimonials than he did in preceding years when he was getting his share of those miniature diplomas.

George's secret of attaining good scholarship is plenty of outside reading, that is, of good authors. George is always over at the Library getting books and looking over the magazines.

When George laughs, or rather roars at a joke the four walls of the room resound with an echo befitting the roar of a Cyclops. This uproarious humor of his, is his outstanding characteristic this year, not to mention his argumentative powers which he unmercifully displays against teachers and pupils alike.

George deserves great praise and thanks for his great financial capacity in helping to make this book possible, as its business manager. It's because of this that we are confident that he'll succeed in the business world, which he says is going to be his pursuit after graduating from Boston University C. B. A.

Good luck, George.

And now we come to Nora, one of the class's smallest, wittiest, and most clever members. "Shorty" has always had her share in the fun-making and is always ready to do her share in making the High School affairs she attends, a success.

She is especially fond of athletics and never misses a game. She always looks up to the men and though this could be taken in two ways we don't mean to imply anything.

But while "Shaker" seems to be enjoying life, her studies are never neglected for whoever knew the time that Nora didn't have some reply for the teachers.

In the Senior Show, Nora played an especially clever character part, while attributing her share to the success of "Square Crooks" by portraying the part of a colored servant.

"Shrimp" is going to Normal School next fall and after that she will become "une PETITE institutrice." We know she will succeed and the class of 1923 wishes her the very best of luck.

"Ed" is one of those quiet fellows who always manage to glide in about a second or two before the tardy bell rings. With the day thus started he SPEEDS to the various classrooms to find his seat perhaps in a corner or away up in the back of the room where you can just barely see him. You may ask "Why does he always choose these places?" Well it's quite a help sometimes when the teacher doesn't see you—especially when you forget to study the lesson the night before. But "Ed" more than makes up for these oversights on his part and always pays strict attention in class. One outstanding and singular feature of "Ed's" is his habit of getting very high marks in his tests.

There is one thing that we can never imagine "Ed" doing, and that is getting into a lively discussion or debate such as is conducted up in Room 5. It seems to be his motto not to interfere with anything that requires outside work.

"Ed" hasn't decided where he will jump to from Clinton High but we of '28 can vouch for his subsequent success, because "Ed's" got the goods. He is too unassuming, that's all.

TEOFIL WALTER PERZAN

Commercial Course

Inter-class Football 2-3-4; Student Member, Clinton Historical Society.

Teofil is one of the quietest members of the class. After all, why shouldn't he be, to a certain extent? For when he sees the "scraps" that a lot of us get into because of excessive talking, he can well stand by and be thankful for his gift. His good use of the time that might ordinarily be wasted on nonsense, enables him to proudly uphold a good record in scholarship.

And to elaborate on this same record, we have no official knowledge of the number of "testies" that decorate the Perzan home but we hear that Teofil is thinking of binding the volume of them he received.

On the other hand, if he had more time during our football seasons, Clinton High would now have another favorite son to boast of on her annals, for, doubtless to say, he has practically all the natural endowment necessary for a good athlete. We can safely say this because of the splendid showing he made in our inter-class encounters in football.

We predict greater things for you in the future, Teofil, if you ably blend your quiet and unassuming manner with a more enterprising disposition such as will endear you to the hearts of your fellowmen. You have the stuff, old boy, and we hope to see it well applied at something that will repay you duly and make a fit reward of your efforts.

"Doc" "Red"

College Course

Inter-class Football 3; Minstrel Show 2; Debating Society.

A few short years ago a very unassuming and reserved little fellow entered the portals of Clinton High School. He wasn't destined to remain so, however, for now on leaving he carries with him the reputation of being a live wire.

His pleasant personality, wit and humor, has made him a friend of the student body and faculty alike, and helped make him effectively diplomatic.

"Doc" was one of our ardent sport fans, he doing his duty to his Alma Mater by attending all sport functions. During his Junior year he decided to assume the title "Red" and emulate "Red" Grange on the gridiron and so played during the inter-class series. But the doubtful future of professional footballers caused "Doc" to give up the strenuous sport.

"Doc" has never been what one might call a bookworm, and consequently has never had the opportunity of taking home many "testies" but don't think for a moment that he hasn't natural talent, as Cicero would say, for anyone who can learn how to drive a big Chandler in two lessons must have plenty of good stuff in him to pick up any other knowledge whatsoever.

So with our great confidence in his natural ability we are banking on him to set a fast and furious pace at Northeastern University where he intends to go next fall to further his education. Good-bye, "Doc," and good luck, and don't forget to display at the University that same spirit which has proved your greatness to us.

"Ray" is another one of those quiet and studious boys who are not generally heard from. But "Ray" is a sleeping lion, for when he is aroused, well, ask the Junior who played against him in the inter-class games. Speaking of football, "Ray" plays a mean pigskin. Did you ever see a line hold "Ray" when he charged? And when he tackles the man with the ball!

But "Ray's" chief object in school seems to be studying for he does nothing else but. However, we all admire him for his studious traits especially those of us who are erratic for who else but "Ray" would we go for help in any subject. None of the teachers can kick about his work because it is flawless. How we wished to be able to change places with him, especially in those trying circumstances when the teacher would not understand our pleas for forgiveness!

"Ray" has not let us into the secret concerning his future plans, but anyone who applies himself to his work as "Ray" does, has all the characteristics necessary to a successful career. Carry on, "Ray."

Marie has made a place for herself among the members of '28 through her athletic ability. Prior to some of the "big" basketball games of the season we found the girls' team out on the floor and Marie, as a member of the girls' varsity. did her share in every game. She was ever willing to put up a good fight and the team surely was fortunate in having her as a player.

You will find Marie among that gang which sits in the back of the "Hall" and if you really know her, you can account for some of the noise which is always heard up there.

Marie has always been "one of us" and we will all be sorry the day when we must part, for you may be sure we will miss her. She always has a smile on her face and goes about in a carefree way which makes everyone want to know her.

Although Mar-r-r-ie has never appeared in our dramatics, you never fail to see her around when anything of that sort is going on. And as for sports—you can't say enough, for she is a faithful rooter every time.

Nearly every class can claim at least one athletic girl and we are no exception for Adelaide is a real athlete. Tennis, basketball, swimming are all in Adelaide's line. Any fine afternoon she and her shadow may be seen on the L. M. tennis court. And can she play! From all reports it seems that Helen Wills may soon have a keen rival. As for basketball, well, need we dwell upon it? Anyone who attended the games in the Armory can tell you that "Pansy" certainly had a keen eye for baskets and was an indispensabe member of the Varsity Team.

But although "Pansy" spends much of her time in sports she does not desert her lessons entirely (especially U. S.). In history "Nada" can always be relied upon to clear up any vague topic. And at the quarterly distribution of testimonials she receives her reward.

Aside from the regular school curriculum, "Pansy" is also a member of our newly formed Debating Society, and an honorary member of the Historical Society.

Much of the fun which we have had in our classes can be attributed to the duo, "Me and my Shadow" (alias Adelaide and "Caddie").

Adelaide's intentions for the future are indefinite but whatever she may do we are sure that she will be a success.

May we present "our Betty"?

"Betty" is that "heureuse" individual whose smiling brown eyes and quaint manners have completely won our hearts.

Perhaps it is because she has that unusual rare quality of "just being herself." She's ever steady in her work; sunny in her play, a bit demure, and always proves an unfailing friend wherever she is needed.

"Betty" is also an accomplished pianist and we predict big things for her in this field.

"Betty" is a hard working girl—for certainly we know how much candy Woolworth sells. Perhaps there is a reason for your wondering just why—do you know now? Every Thursday and Saturday nights we find her weighing and selling candy for the "5 & 10" Cent Store.

"Betty," too, was one of our staff of typists who did most of the real work in our class book. The Class of 1928 wishes to extend to her its thanks for the many hours that "Betty" worked to make our book possible.

Vice-President 3-4; Junior Prom Committee; Minstrel Show 2; Glee Club 4.

Now, in good society, it is quite the thing to make introductions, so let us introduce our Vice-President. To the members of our class she needs no introduction, but we must be polite! For two years we didn't hear much about "Caddie" but when we did, Oh! Boy! The best instance of this is shown when the class elected her to fill the office of Vice-President. Such popularity must be deserved

"Caddie" is very diligent and faithful in her studies and receives marks to her credit. It must be a grand and glorious feeling to go into class knowing that your lessons are thoroughly prepared. Most of us read them over and get an idea (?) but, "Caddie" must study according to the "Read, Mark, and Inwardly Digest" method for she usually knows what she is talking about.

Catherine spends a good part of her leisure time as nursemaid. We do not think, however, that this is the height of her ambitions, but who knows?

It was upon "Caddie's" successful management of the weekly Food Sales that the success of the new feature of our class book depended. That new feature was a cover, which is a credit to any book.

Catherine's plans for the future are along the school teaching line. Our best wishes accompany you in your chosen profession, "Caddie."

President 2; Varsity Basketball 1; Class Football 2-3; Inter-class Dramatics 1; Debating Society; Minstrel Shows 2-3; Junior Prom Committee.

Allow us next to present "Scrappy," one of the most popular fellows to ever attend C. H. S.

Let us not forget that "Scrap" was our first President, this showing that his popularity was evident from the very start. From that time until graduation, hardly any affair of importance was considered well done unless "Scrap" lent his aid, something which was always whole heartedly given, and which invariably aided the success of the undertaking.

"Scrappy" is one of our humorists, he fairly bubbles over with humor. "Scrappy" never worried about testimonials, but his witty replies have made him a big favorite with the teachers and students. And "Scrappy's" debating ability which he used to a very great degree often in the class room will never be forgotten. We have often thought that he started these arguments just to help us out by relieving the monotony of the lessons.

"Scrappy" was also popular with the fairer sex, as he was frequently accompanied by—ahem!—er—ah—oh! you know!

"Scrappy's" plans for the future are indefinite as yet, but we feel that he will be a success in whatever he undertakes. Good Luck, "Scrap," from 1928.

MARY MASON SAUNDERS

College Course

Junior Prom Committee; Debating Society.

Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
How does your "Bobbie" grow?
Hopping and skipping, and often times tripping
As across the Park you go.

Mary certainly enjoys life. "Everything comes to her who laughs," is Mary s motto and who could imagine her worrying over such things as studies? Nevertheless she ranks high with both averages and her classmates.

She adds to the gayety of all our social events and is an ardent rooter at all Clinton High games. Her classes are always more interesting because of her ready wit and good humor. The history class can testify that Mary doesn't approve of platforms, she prefers a front porch, (or is it the "back pork," Mary?)

And indeed who will forget in our Latin II class when Mr. Hynes calmly remarked on a cloudy day, "Run up the curtains, please, Mary." How we all did laugh!

She is one of our very bashful girls but she tries to overcome this. Keep up the good work, Mary, and remember it isn't always the over-confident who succeed. We have said she is bashful and yet we have noticed that in several classes she keeps up an interesting conversation with several members. Particularly is this true in French IV! But enough said!

There is no one we shall miss more, or remember longer, than our Mary. She intends Mt. Holyoke to be her destination for the coming four years. We all know that you'll make good, Mary.

CATHERINE MARY SCANLON

"Cath"

Normal Course

Glee Club 2-3; Minstrel Show 3; Class Basketball 3.

Here is a girl who has made a lasting impression on her classmates during her four years at C. H. S. It must be a gift. Any member of the class will vouch that she has never once "tried" to make an impression, yet by using her powers of personality in an entirely ordinary manner, Catherine has gained a permanent place in the hearts of her classmates.

Psychologists tell us that the hardest task men and women have to face in life is that of "being oneself." It's a mighty hard job, yet Catherine has evidently succeeded. This is proved by the conspicuous record of her four years in High School.

Catherine's class and school spirit came to the fore more than once during her stay here, though, for she "warbled through" two years as a member of our famous Glee Club besides appearing in the annual Minstrel Show. Just to show us that she could be an athlete, too, she played on the basketball team which represented the Class during the Sophomore year and contributed to its success.

At this time, Catherine is uncertain concerning her future plans. Whatever they may be, you have the sincerest wishes for future success and happiness from '28, Catherine.

"Oh, Louise, have you got your English done?" Louise is "Efficiency Ella" herself, when it comes to helping others with their lessons. If there's anything to be done, Louise is there with bells on.

Her favorite sport is tennis and she certainly knows her "Helen Wills." She can slam more tennis balls over into the Mill Yard than she can sell bolts and screws on Saturday night—and that's going some.

When not playing tennis, Louise works in a Millionaire's Emporium—F. W. Woolworth's. Maybe "Lou" doesn't know her "hardware"!!

"Mary Lou" is one of our songsters. She shows the same conscientious attitude toward Glee Club as in all her other work. She did her bit for the Athletic Association during her Junior year by lending her voice in the Minstrel Show.

Louise is another member of our class who has chosen nursing for her future work, and if we were to lapse into vernacular, "she has the stuff." So long, "Lou," may you succeed in your chosen profession.

Minnie joined our ranks as a Sophomore but you may be sure it didn't take her long to get in with the rest of the class. You can bet we have never been sorry of the day when she entered Clinton High School for the first time.

"Min" is by no means one of the quiet ones of the class. She is always looking for a good time, and is seldom missing when one is to be had.

"Mincie" is quite clever in her studies as you could not help but know, if you ever read the list of testimonial awards. We are surely glad that "Min" is one of the clever pupils because then we know where to go if we forget the assignment or didn't have the time to do it.

Minnie was an honorary member of the Women's Club and she frequented all the meetings. The fact that she was chosen for this honor is also another proof of brilliance.

Speaking of clever, if you have ever been to a High School play you, of course, know that "Mincie" is quite an actress. Not only that, but she sure can sing and was a principal factor in both of our minstrel shows.

"Min" is bound for Framingham Normal and we send our best wishes for success with her.

"Peg" has always had a quiet disposition in school and can be heard only when a certain group gets together. It takes a lot to start her off but when she's started you can't stop her.

We cannot say that "Peg" has stood at the head of her class in regard to studies, but because of her loving character and ready smile she has gained a place in every one's heart as a chummy and lovable classmate.

Whenever her work did not interfere, "Peg" was a "loyal rooter" at our sport and social functions. Of course you know that "Peg" was one of our most industrious girls and there were few lost moments in her life.

Margaret was, you know, one of the trio of typists who spent much of their time after school hours in hammering these writeups into shape. We appreciate your helping spirit, "Peg," and thank you for making this book what it is.

During her Sophomore year "Peggy" had the misfortune of being laid up for quite a spell as a result of an operation, but she pulled through and made up successfully her lost work.

"Peg's" ambition is to be "Somebody's Stenog," and we feel sure that her employer will agree with all we have said.

As she has succeeded so far, we wish her as much luck and more in the future.

Here is "Dot," (otherwise known as "Corporal"). She is our fair-haired pal, but her hair is not more sunny than her heart for who ever saw "Dot" when her face was not radiant with a smile? The picture above shows "Dot's" natural smile, the one we know so well.

She is a very enthusiastic rooter at all the High School athletic games, particularly those of basketball. We don't think she missed one of the games in that sport this year. We wonder why?

"Dot" is very earnest in all her work. She is conscientious about her studies and always has her lessons well prepared. The testimonial list never lacks her name. One thing, though, that we can't quite understand is her delight in getting excused from Gym. We've tried every way to figure it out and the only reason we could find was because Gym sent her mind floating away to basketball.

There is something about "Dot" that we all admire and respect but we cannot seem to express it properly. She cannot be called too quiet, neither is she too gay; but she is one of the best-liked girls in the class.

"Dot" plans to go to Simmons College in the fall and we know from our contact with her in High School that she will succeed there and reflect nothing but credit on Clinton High. Adieu, Dorothy, '28 wishes you all happiness for the future.

EUGENE WILBUR SOMERVILLE

"Somie"

Technical Course

Class Football 1-3-4.

"Gene" is Miss Kent's ardent disciple. Mathematics is his specialty and, boy, what he doesn't know about algebra and geometry, isn't worth studying. But we needn't be misled to the belief that his other studies have been made to suffer on account of his mathmatical pursuits, for he has never had any "close shaves" in them. Moreover, anyone who can comprehend "Math" should have no great difficulty in anything else. And by no means is he a hog with his knowledge, for he is always ready to share it with his fellow-students.

Then, too, he has a very pleasant disposition and frequently displays a likeable humor both subjectively and objectively, all of which tends to make him an agreeable companion and classmate.

"Gene" intends to take up engineering at some Technical School, which is a very appropriate and wise vocation for a youth like him. The mere choice of such a profession insures for him a bright forecast of the future. The heartiest and unselfish wishes of the class are with you, "Gene."

Our only hope is that you'll persevere and reach the heights for which you seem destined.

CARL JULIUS STARK

"Captain"

Technical Course

Class Football 3; Inter-class Dramatics 3; Minstrel Show 3 and 4.

Now in English we are taught something about figures of speech, but we just can't tell which one it is that we are trying to show here—but in plain American we claim that "Captain" has several characteristics from which great men develop.

His height was one great asset in all our inter-class sports, on which teams he invariably played. As a tackle he could grab an opposing back before he even started, but in basketball why! dropping in baskets was to him as much exertion as putting our hands in our pockets is to us. And wasn't "Captain" one of the track team for our annual Class Field Day last year? Can't you see him now striding around that ash pit down at Fuller's Field during the mile run???

"Captain's" characterizations as a member of our dramatic presentations were certainly masterpieces. We will remember him as the butler in our Junior Inter-class production, but we can never forget him as the blood smeared referee of our midget football team in this year's Minstrel Show. That slow motion effect and the handling of such a gathering of gridiron heroes called for real art and "Starkie" kept the house in an uproar with his interpretations.

"Captain" seems to have a leaning toward a technical education after leaving High School. His work in technical preparatory subjects here has been of such a calibre that we predict no trouble for him at Northeastern University, his chosen school of higher learning. Good luck, Carl, may all the success you surely deserve come your way.

Class Book Staff; Basketball 1; Debating Society; Honorary Member of Clinton Historical Society.

Rose is one of the most industrious of our Senior girls. When we were Freshmen she was unknown, and when we entered upon our second year of High School, Rose was merely beginning. But steadily she has caught up with dear old '28 through her hard work, perseverance, and industriousness and is now one of the brightest of the class.

Who could be so hard-hearted as to refuse Rose anything she asks, or whom, on the other hand, did Rose ever willingly suffer to pass unaided when help was needed? And how many has Rose gladdened with her witty remarks and ever smiling countenance? It would be hard to answer those questions in any way other than the favorable.

It must be remembered too that Rose is one of those rare personages who completed her High School course in three years. Such cases are few and far between, and it is only a type of person such as Rose who could make a success of it. We congratulate you, Rose, on your achievement.

Her work always done, her answers always prompt in the class room, her willingness to do her share in whatever comes her way has made Rose one of the most popular as well as most brilliant girls.

She hasn't definitely decided her future vocation but whatever she chooses—and we know that she will choose wisely—we feel sure she will succeed.

Here he is, our well known and well liked "Abe." We mean every letter of that nickname "Joe Colleage" in speaking of "Abe." For he surely is one of the best dressed boys of the class and deserves the awards which go to a "Beau Brummel."

"Abie" has made us all like him and yet through no forward tactics on his part. For he is one of the most modest and quietest pupils in the class. No fear of "Abie's" getting in "Dutch" with the faculty for he always behaves just as any teacher imagines in his Utopian dreams. His lessons are always well prepared so that no trouble is caused for either party.

"Abie" was a well known figure on the football field. He played on the Class teams for the past three years and always did his best to keep the name of '28 to the fore.

"Abie" seems to have a leaning toward a business career for as he says, he has seen enough of traveling. He will probably continue his education in some business school to learn the game even more thoroughly than he knows it now. We of '28 are with you "Abie" and hope to point to you some day with pride and say that you used to be one of us at Clinton High.

When "Burt" is in the classroom under the eye of his teacher, he is like a lamb; but when he is out with other fellows oh, what a change! the lamb becomes a lion. "Burt" is a good player in football and baseball, especially in the former, and so he starred in all the inter-class games. Many of his opponents, in the other classes, will remember him as an aggressive player, who always tried to have some remembrance of the contest with them, and so always tried to impress them with the following lines:

"Lives of players all remind us
We can make our lives a wreck
And in football leave behind us
Footprints on some fellow's neck."

"Burt" is one of the most industrious members of '28, his position every afternoon undoubtedly keeping him from the varsity sports. He's, you know, one of our few professional chauffeurs—if we may use the term—and is quite a familiar figure in a certain Franklin car.

We are not sure of "Burt's" ambition for the future—but one job we know he could fill to perfection is that of a movie censor or something in the movie game—for "Burt" claims that pictures are good for what ails you and seldom misses the big features.

'28 extends to you, "Burt," its wishes for a successful career in whatever you take up. Continue showing that industrious spirit and it won't be long before you come into your own.

Pep, velocity, dash—all synonymous for Nancy, one of our very efficient cheer leaders. Ask any of the boys of the various athletic teams who helped bring home the bacon? There's never a game complete without "Bright Eyes." The fans would be greatly disappointed if "Shortie" didn't appear out in front with her megaphone. Hot Stuff!! The people of Clinton will long remember C. H. S. night at the Strand Theater when Nancy appeared leading the songs and cheers, ably assisted by her big time pal, "Jo." "Nan" herself is a star for she does her twinkling on the basketball floor.

"Nancy" is so well liked by all her teachers that she has a season ticket for the afternoon socials. Short but sweet and possessing "it" in a large quantity explains Anna.

She has always been a friend to everyone. Her ready wit, smiling face, laughing eyes and her own self have won "Nancy" a place in the hearts of all her classmates. She thoroughly enjoys life and makes others enjoy it completely, also, by seeing the good side of things.

Although "Shorty" is a great "matinee idol (idle)" she does surprise us all by reciting once in a while. Whether her imagination is very fertile or not we can't tell. We often wonder what she does with all her spare time.

Whatever or whoever will claim Anna next year we do not know, but we do know that whatever she undertakes in life will be a joyful success.

Debating 4.

Paul has been an official member of our class only since January, but in this short period he has become the friend and associate of many. Entering our portals during the week of the Mid-Year Exams, Paul immediately undertook the uphill battle of graduating with the handicap of being unable to take the Mid-Years. His success in accomplishing this feat is due to his ambition and studiousness.

We hear that Paul is quite a chauffeur and delights in long trips to Baltimore and other distant places. Lindbergh made long flights before he became famous, so we wonder if Paul is following "Lindy's" footsteps.

Paul, to outward appearances, seems to be a quiet boy, but once he forgets his bashfulness, he uncovers an amazing amount of knowledge.

Paul knows the sporting world from end to end, and what he doesn't know about every day topics could be written on the head of a pin.

Paul is undecided what he will do next year but whatever he undertakes he will have the best wishes of the Class of 1928.

Unless you know "Pep" very well, you might never realize the width of his knowledge and the depth of his wisdom. He is too modest and unassuming to make his ability excessively evident. And as a result he has gained many friends including teachers who are appreciative of his fine qualities and mannerisms.

Books never were a great source of worry to "Pep" (he looking upon them as a sort of necessary evil); still his record in class has no blemishes and his report card is not one of the patriotic kind, no teacher spilling much red ink after "Pep's" name. Worrying, in "Pep's" mind, produces nothing but wrinkles, and why get wrinkles? At that, when did you ever see "Pep" downcast or in worry over anything.

He was never too busy to lend a helping hand to any classmate in distress. If "Pep" could oblige you, he'd only be too willing to do so. We who have basked in the warm ray of his friendship murmur once again, "In his face is light, but in his shadow, healing too."

"Pep" hasn't decided what vocation he will pursue, but we can bank on his winning way to bring him the success which we of '28 wish for him.

Hello! What's the matter over there? What! An argument over some play in baseball or football game! Call "Bernie." Here he comes. Out comes the rule book. That's it, it's all over. "Bernie" has settled another argument with his much-prized rule book; again he has played the role of peacemaker.

That's not all, "Bernie" intends to play that role always—to be a big league umpire, a coach, a trainer or what not, as long as it is connected with athletics.

"Bernie," however, does not always play the role of rule book advisor—for he was a member of both our class basketball and football teams. He was a mean "snapper-back" during his Junior year—in football and showed a real eye for the basket on the Sophomore team.

Just because that trait seems to be so characteristic of him, we must not forget him as a student. There are no such things as close calls for "Bernie;" he always glides along smoothly and easily in his school work. As a consequence he is well liked by his teachers to whom he has given no great bother, and also by the students whom he has had occasion to help.

Keep up the good work, "Bernie," the class of 1928 would be proud to see one of her favorite sons, a big league umpire or athletic supervisor at the Olympics some day.

SILENCE REIGNS

MAY I BE EXCUSED?

Dear Ex-member of '28:

It is four years since you last heard from us, and in that time we have advanced from timid freshmen to exalted seniors on the threshold of a new experience. As you might like to hear of our activities during these years we shall recount them for you.

Our Freshman year, up to about April, was quite uneventful. Being "green" we were fully occupied in learning the "ropes" and so we had no time for school activities. We experienced our first mid-year examinations and there was many a scared freshman who went through the ordeal, to say the least. After the exams, we began to show our first real interest in school life. When the Inter-class Dramatics arrived, the lowly Freshmen had risen to such heights that we almost walked off with the trophy. The class picnic at Whalom ended our Freshman year in a blaze of glory. Needless to say that everybody enjoyed themselves immensely. We disbanded in June feeling that our first year had been well spent.

In September we returned as Sophomores. Our ranks were a little thinned, perhaps, but still we were a formidable legion. First came that important event which was to change us from individuals into a united class—the election of officers. Then, after our "Ship of State" was launched, there came the choosing of class colors (Dartmouth green and silver), and shortly after that the selection of class rings. That year the Athletic Association decided to have a Minstrel Show and the best talent of every class was selected. It is not necessary to add that our class was well represented. In January we encountered our second mid-year exams but they held no such terror for us then. Again came the Interclass Dramatics and this time we could not be denied. Our cohorts under the banner, the "Lotus Flowers," swept on to victory and it is impossible to exaggerate our pride and exaltation. The picnic was as great if not a greater success than that of the previous year. When vacation arrived we felt that we had had a very momentous year.

Junior

Juniors, Upperclassmen, a division worthy of note, that is how we returned to Clinton High. The class election was the first event and officers were chosen to lead the destinies of '28 for the following year. At Thanksgiving we held our second Minstrel Show and Dance, an event which went over big with the Alumni and townspeople alike. We conducted our first Junior Dance and the gate receipts were amazing. A good time was had by all! The Inter-class Dramatics came and we were confident that we would repeat and carry off first prize. But for once the Freshmen upset the predictions and defeated the other classes. Several tea-dances were conducted to increase the wealth of '28. Finally the greatest event so far, of our school life arrived, the Junior Prom. We were highly elated at the results for it was the most successful Prom conducted for many years. The feature of the evening was a huge silver airplane suspended from the ceiling on which was painted in green to represent the "Spirit of '28."

Memorabilia

What a grand and glorious feeling to be Seniors—dignified and supreme. The class officers were elected for the last time: Edward Durkin and Catherine Salmon being reelected to the positions of President and Vice-President respectively. The Senior Show was put over with a wonderful success and incidently it swelled our riches in the treasury. We went through our last mid-year exams with great rejoicing. In February the Debating Society was formed and four seniors were chosen as the varsity team to compete with Leominster. Then came another election—the Class Book officers, and work was immediately begun on our year book. Then the last Dramatic competition arrived and for the second time our class captured the trophy. Surely we are leaving behind us a very impressive record in dramatics. As graduation draws near everything denotes our passing from Clinton High. Pictures are being taken and arrangements are being made for our farewell. The Prom, Class Day and the Banquet are yet to come. Graduation will soon sever our connections with Clinton High. Then we shall pass with the memories of four perfect years.

Sincerely yours,

THE CLASS OF 1928.

FOOTBALL SQUAD

Clinton High School

Football

When one looks at the record of the 1927 football team with regard to victories and defeats one figures that it was not a very successful season but when one goes over scores and notes the list of teams played, it seems that it is a favorable record. After receiving several defeats the team was not discouraged, but took the defeats in a sportsmanlike manner and looked forward to defeating the next team it faced.

Coach McCaffrey brought candidates for positions through the preliminary stage very rapidly and then fitted them for the various positions. There were promising candidates in both the lower and upper classes and all were given a chance to show their ability.

In the opening game with Maynard, the Clinton boys fought valiantly, but as luck would have it, the breaks were against them and victory was turned into defeat.

On October 15th, Leominster, Clinton's old rival, came to Clinton, with every reason to expect a victory since Clinton had yet to win a game. It looked as if their hope would be fulfilled, for the first half ended 2-0 in their favor. But the Clinton boys were determined and they took the ball over for two touch-downs in the second half and took their first win at the expense of their old rival.

On Thanksgiving day, Clinton traveled to Milford for their annual game. Both teams were determined to add a win to their record and it was one of the best games witnessed by the fans all season. Both teams were strong, both on offensive and defensive with the result of a scoreless tie.

Captain J. O'Connell, Long, J. McNally, Child, B. O'Toole, W. O'Connell, Goodwin, Duggan and Goss were the contributions of the Class of 1928 to the team.

Letters and gold foot balls were awarded to the following:

Capt. John O'Connell	'28	Harold Tracy	'31	Edward Goodwin	'28
Donald Child	'28	Gerald Carlisle	'30	Dexter Goss	'28
James McNally	'28	Mgr. Robert Child	'30	Thomas Kerrigan	'31
W. O'Connell	'28	Francis B. O'Toole	'28	John Ellam	'29

BASKETBALL SQUAD

Clinton High School

Basketball

The Clinton High School basketball team for the season of 1927-28 is one that the school is proud of and it has a good reason to be proud of it, for the team won ten of the fifteen games scheduled.

The team started the season by winning from the older and more experienced Alumni team. They showed that they were far better as a team than the Alumni.

Clinton lost the next three games, but took their defeats in a sportsmanlike manner. They never gave up but fought to the last second.

The game with Framingham High turned out to be by far the most exciting of the season. Framingham had one of the best teams in the state but that did not bother Clinton, they were just as determined as ever to win. As the game proceeded, first one team was ahead and then the other. At the end of the game the score stood tie and it took two overtime periods to decide who was the better. Clinton came from the floor the winner by a 19-17 score.

Clinton went through the rest of the schedule winning all but two games until the last game with Leominster arrived. Leominster defeated Clinton earlier in the season and were determined to do it again. But Clinton was just as determined to avenge this defeat. As a result, Clinton came from the floor a winner once again, but this time with a score of 33-14. Clinton was chosen to compete in the Worcester Tech Tournament but was eliminated by the tourney favorite and subsequent winner—Commerce High of Worcester.

The members of the squad were: Capt. Duggan, Joyce, Capt.-elect Linton, Child, T. McNally, J. McNally, O'Toole, O'Malley, Long, Henighan.

BASKETBALL SQUAD

Girls' Basketball

Our class was fortunate in that the girls were allowed to participate in varsity athletics this year for the first time in years. To our new physical supervisor, Bessie Maitland, goes the credit for the renewal of girls' varsity sports, and the annual inter-class basketball series conducted by Miss Gibbons in former years, together with our inter-class series of this year, made it possible for our coach, Miss Maitland, to pick the best players from the various class teams for service on the varsity squad. Our new equipment in basketball certainly made us look the part of real hoopsters, and many favorable comments were heard concerning the natty uniforms worn by the team members.

Several obstacles were encountered during our first season which, as far as victories were concerned, was not a long list of wins. In the first place, we had to shift the style of play for each team we met, some teams playing girls' rules and others playing boys' rules. We had been accustomed to playing boys' rules, in our inter-class contests and this frequent changing about caused us some difficulty.

Then, too, we had some difficulty in filling one schedule since the team was organized so late in the season, that most of the teams from neighboring schools had their schedules filled. Competition means more experience and it was that which we lacked.

You all know the number of spectators who watched our inter-class games and then you can imagine how we felt when we were placed on the huge Armory floor before a large crowd playing a team from a school which had been playing the sport for a number of years. The results of our games were not discouraging as we felt that it takes time to build up prestige in any sport. The experience we gained this year will prove valuable during years which follow and we look for girls' teams in the future which will be on a par with, if not better, than our neighboring High School girls' teams.

We were highly elated when we did win over the Berlin Town team—a team which had been playing together for some time.

The members of this year's squad were:

Forwards—Leona Moran, Helen Moran, Gladys Andriski, Madeline Ross.
Centers—Adelaide Ross, Mary Jennings.
Guards—Marie Praderio, Marguerite O'Malley, Nancy Tessier.

baseball

Our baseball team this year should be fully as good as those of other years, since very few of the veterans graduated last June. Up to the present time we have not been over successful, but once the team strikes its stride, it will be hard to beat.

This season saw an innovation in our early training since we had our preliminary workouts in the big drill shed of the Armory. A place like the Armory to do such work takes the place of the big baseball cage of the colleges, and permits an earlier get-away in the conditioning process.

Up to the present time, rain, or cold, and in one case snow, has caused postponements or cancellations of several games. On Patriots' Day, we got off to a good start against Maynard High but rain interfered before the regulation 4½ innings could be played. Rain also washed out the Commerce High game.

Next came two losses, both at the hands of prep school teams, these games counting, of course, in the team record but still being regarded by the authorities as practice games to get a line on new men. As a proof of this, but two veterans were used at Cushing, O'Connell at catch and "Nippy" at short.

The Fitchburg game was close until the seventh when Clinton started booting the ball. The defeat can be attributed easily enough to the large number of misplays.

We broke into the win column by swamping Milford, thereby handing the Milfordites a rude shock, since they expected an easy win. We hope that from now on all the bad baseball will be left at home and the team will function as it should.

VARSITY DEBATING CLUB

Debating Clubs

One of the most interesting activities in which the Class of '28 took an active part was the Debating Society. Organized in January by Mr. McGrail, about 20 Seniors were among the charter members. So large was the number joining that it was decided to divide the Society into two divisions, the Senior-Junior and the Sophomore-Freshmen. No name has been selected for the Society as yet although the discussion came before almost every meeting. We hereby will that task to the Juniors.

The officers chosen were: President, Edward Goodwin, '28; Vice-President, John Manter, '29; Treasurer, Anna Brodrick, '28; Secretary, Marjorie Stewart, '29; Sergeants-at-arms, William O'Connell, '28, and Frank O'Toole, '29.

Business meetings and debates were held every week and every member of the club participated. The debates were lively and interesting, and considerable forensic ability was demonstrated.

Our debut into public debates with other schools was marked by encouraging success. We tilted with Leominster on the question of Compulsory Education. Before a packed house in Music Hall, our Negative team, Anna Brodrick, John Moran and John Manter, alternate, vanquished the ancient foe. In Leominster, the advantage of experience counted heavily against us, and our Affirmative team, Edward Goodwin, William Constantino and Harold Lamlein, alternate, was defeated. The interest manifested in this inter-school debate was just as keen as in any athletic contest and the skill shown by the local debators was remarkable considering their brief experience in this art.

The Class of '28 hopes that this praise-worthy activity is continued and its work extended because of the undoubted benefits accruing to all who participate in it.

DEBATING CLUB OFFICERS.

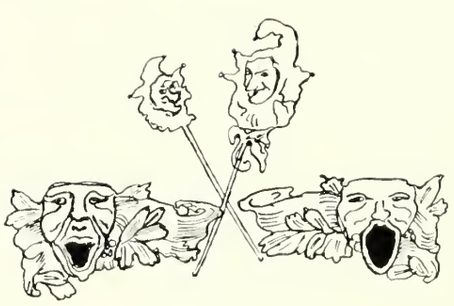
Debating Clubs (Continued)

Among the more interesting topics debated during the year were the desirability of the city form of government for Clinton, popular election of the president, the independence of the Philippines, the need of a new High School building, the sixteen year compulsory education law, and government ownership of the railroads. After each debate there was an open forum in which all could and certainly did participate.

The social afternoon and mock trial were novelties which "went over big." Both disclosed talent never before suspected in the High School.

Every member of the society participated in one or more debates, and it is needless to say the benefits derived from membership are innumerable, but the most important are the ability to think logically and to speak intelligently before an audience, and the development of an understanding interest in public questions with the object of becoming better informed and more valuable citizens.

DRAMATICS



Clinton High School

All the world's a stage,
And all the men and women merely players;
They have their exits and their entrances,
And one man in his time plays many parts,
His acts being seven ages. At first the infant,
Mewling and puking in the nurse's arms;
Then the whining school-boy, with his satchel
And shining morning face, creeping like snail
Unwillingly to school; and then the lover,
Sighing like furnace, with a woeful ballad
Made to his mistress' eyebrow; then a soldier,
Full of strange oaths and bearded like the pard,
Jealous in honour, sudden and quick in quarrel,
Seeking the bubble reputation
Even in the cannon's mouth; and then the justice,
In fair round belly with good capon lin'd,
With eyes severe and beard of formal cut,
Full of wise saws and modern instances;
And so he plays his part. The sixth age shifts
Into the lean and slipper'd pantaloon,
With spectacles on nose and pouch on side,
His youthful hose well sav'd, a world too wide
For his shrunk shank; and his big manly voice,
Turning again toward childish treble, pipes
And whistles in his sound. Last scene of all,
That ends this strange eventful history,
Is second childishness and mere oblivion,
Sans teeth, sans eyes, sans taste, sans everything.

INTER-CLASS FRESHMEN CAST

"Who Kissed Barbara?"

Barbara Nichols	Marion Chase
Horace Gregory	Edward Goodwin
Paul Blake	Clarke Wiesman
Jones	John Salmon
Katherine Blake	Marjorie Murphy

Our first starring vehicle (and this is not personal "our") was in the Inter-class dramatic competition during our first year. The play which was assigned to the Freshmen class was the farce, "Who Kissed Barbara?" It had to deal with events preceding the wedding of two of the characters. Barbara, the central figure, has made a wager with Horace Gregory, the groom-to-be, that she will not be kissed by a man before he is married. That night when Barbara enters a dark room in search of the copy of the wager she is kissed by an unknown man who leaves as the only clues to his identity the fact that his breath smelt strongly of peppermint and upon Barbara's screams uttered the word "Damn." The course of the action involves the two men, Paul, through the trace of peppermint, and Horace, through his ejaculation of "Damn" when he accidentally spilled some grape juice. However, it all turns out nicely, Paul is established as the guilty party and we leave Barbara and Paul very much in love with each other at the end of a slow curtain. This play was very well done and just missed getting the prize which went to the Seniors.

INTER-CLASS SOPHOMORE CAST

"Lotus Flowers"

Allan Blake	Donald Child
Jack Durkin	Edward Goodwin
Betty	Alice Forhan
Mildred	Mildred Lister
Helga	Mary B. Gibbons
Madame Valeria	Mary Conlon

Our next Thespian endeavor took the form of the "Lotus Flowers." The action is particularly concerned with the trials of two young husbands whose wives are wholly absorbed in spiritualism, affinities, astral bodies, etc. They are easy marks for the clever Mme. Valeria, a supposed medium, and the action carries us through in the efforts of the two men to put an end to this foolishness. By a clever plan they enlist the aid of Mme. Valeria in helping them to bring their wives back to their senses. In this they are finally successful and at the end of the play we see them entering upon a course of uninterrupted marital bliss. This year our play was adjudged the winner.

Mrs. Turlington, Sr.	Mary Conlon

Our third venture into the dramatic field was "Eether or Eyther." Those who remember the trivial plot will understand us when we say that this attempt was unfortunate. The whole action was centered around a family quarrel over such a momentous question as the pronunciation of the word "either." After running the course of sixteen pages of lines, we see, at the curtain, husband and wife happily united, each one insisting on taking the blame for the incident. With these few comments we dismiss the play forever from our memory.

"Double Crossed"

Mel Treman	Edward Goodwin
Joe Thomas	Irvin Long
Edith Thompson	Mildred Lister
Mrs. Thompson	Minnie Schultz
Mary Roe	Alice Forhan
William	Donald S. Child

William O'Connell—Stage Manager

For our fourth and final inter-class play we gave "Double Crossed." Joe Thomas, a bachelor, four years out of college, decides, at last, to marry and finds himself torn between the love of Edith Thompson and that of Mary Roe. At last the fatal day arrives when he must choose. Edith comes to see him and on the spur of the moment he proposes to her but, to his surprise, is refused. He then proposes to Mary Roe where he meets with no more success. A short while after, the girls, having had time to think it over, decide to accept, placing Joe in a very difficult situation. His roommate, Mel, suggests that he marry the girl that comes back to see him first. This relieves him for awhile, but when they both come in together he finds himself no better off than before, but decides to make an explanation to both of them. Mary Roe beats a graceful retreat thereby winning the admiration of Mel who resolves to marry her and the stage is left to Edith and Joe for the logical ending. This time our production was again deemed worthy of the prize.

"Square Crooks"

Eddie Elison	Irvin Long
Kay Elison	Alice Forhan
Larry Scott	Edward Goodwin
Jane Brown	Marion Chase
Bridget O'Rourke	Anna Brodrick
Mike Ross	William Constantino
Timothy Hogan	Edward Durkin
Harry Welch	Donald Child
John Clancy	John Moran
Mrs. Philip Carston	Minnie Schultz
Sorrow	Nora O'Toole

The comedy drama "Square Crooks" was chosen for the show which the class presented at Christmas time. Through the efforts of Mr. Gordon and Mr. O'Toole, 1928 received the distinction of producing one of the best Senior plays in some years. The plot gives us the situation in which Eddie Elison, a former crook and ex-jail bird, is placed, through the scheming of a police detective, who is desirous of "hanging something" on Elison to even up a grudge. The Carston pearls are stolen by one of Eddie's friends and former co-workers. On the death of Eddie's friend the pearls come into the possession of Eddie. Mike Ross, another one of Elison's former associates tries to get a share in the spoils but only to be caught by the detectives. Welch continues his efforts to "frame" Eddie by hiding the pearls on him so that when he searches him it will look as if Elison was guilty. The pearls which he finds, however, prove to be but an imitation of the original necklace, Eddie having returned the real pearls to their rightful owner. In this manner his good name is cleared, the scheming detective is foiled, and the way is left clear to the marriage of Larry, Eddie's friend, and Jane, the girl from the country, whom they have taken under their protection while alone in the big city.

SENIOR CLASS

1928 Class Song

Words by Elinor R. Mattison. Tune: "Maryland, My Maryland."

Classmates loyal, wise and kind,
Keep the class words in your mind,
Try, Trust, Triumph, ever true,
Work with might in all you do.
Linger not in idle thought
If noble deeds you would have wrought,
And until the battle's won
Learn to labor, every one.

Classmates ever, staunch and true,
Try, Trust, Triumph, ever do.
Success and glory will abound
If endurance we have found.
Not for sluggards is the prize
But for those who try to rise,
Ever eager to grow greater
And bring fame to Alma Mater.

Commencement Day has come at last,
High School days are done and past.
The time has come to bid adieu
To school, and other paths pursue.
Still we linger knowing well
'Tis sad the last Good-bye to tell
To know our teachers ne'er will wait
Upon the class of twenty-eight.

CLASS PROPHECY—1928

Written by Mary B. Gibbons

As I sat idling my thoughts seemed to veer,
And aimlessly drift back over each year,
Back to the days of twenty-eight,
And I silently wondered each classmate's fate.
I thought and thought, but without force,
For my mind was traveling a difficult course.
My heart grew heavy, my eyes filled with tears
What, Oh what, was the cause of my fears?
Waves of wonder were clashing strong:
Why, Oh why? I had done no wrong.
As I tossed and tossed in desperation,
Having no one to turn to for consolation,
Suddenly I felt a cool wave of motion
Which had the effect of a soothing lotion,
And eased my heart as if by potion.
It carried me to a rocky isle
Where waters surged round for many a mile.
I waited and watched in silent prayer,
I trembled and shuddered in utter despair,
And then—a clash I heard in the air!
It was a rumbling, grating sound
Like to lightning renting the ground.
Lo, a storm was seaward bound!
The waters swelled into a mound
And as the great waves inward rolled
The fate of each classmate they told
Which I to you will now unfold.

Edward Durkin, one of our former classmates,
Is now President of the United States.

On Riverside Drive, your former vice-president,
Catherine Salmon, is now a resident.

Edward Goodwin, a surgeon of renown,
Has brought credit on his small home town.

Alice Hester married into the business world,
But hasn't forsaken the social whirl.

Gladys Andriski, a leader in sports,
Has shown agility on tennis courts.

Gertrude Baier, our Basketball fan,
Has given up practice for a man.

In a college not far from here,
Is heard Josephine Boylan's hearty cheer.

After she had noticed "his" manly carriage.

Margaret O'Malley took seriously the pun,
"Two can live as cheap as one."

Marguerite O'Malley, a titian haired miss,
Is married and living a life of bliss.

In Paris as a designer of fashion,
Catherine O'Toole all records is smashin'.

A second Lindy in the sky,
Lo, George O'Toole, from Clinton High.

Now grip your seat and hold your hat,
Why? "Beansie" O'Toole is at the bat.

Nora O'Toole a director of plays,
Has proven herself worthy of praise.

As a Real Estate agent,
Edward Padden on success is bent.

Teofil Perzan's future will be sunny,
If he wins his match with Gene Tunney.

Howard Philbin is a great engineer,
His work is appreciated far and near.

In the Probate Court as a judge,
Raymond Philbin's decisions are accepted without a budge.

Marie Praderio, our Basketball star,
Is shooting baskets near and far.

As dean of a girls' academy,
Adelaide Ross is respected for her strategy.

Elizabeth Russell has the world at her feet,
As a pianist she can't be beat.

John Salmon decided to be no ladies' protector,

The Prize Winning Lincoln Essay

Written by John Moran

ABRAHAM LINCOLN—the Preserver of the Union

During the dark and bloody days of that irrepressible conflict, the Civil War, when the nation was torn asunder by the contrasting principles of the North and South, the supervision of enlisting and equipping a great army, and planning campaigns that were to determine the destiny, the happiness, and the prosperity of the people, fell on the shoulders of Abraham Lincoln, the newly elected President of the United States. Few realize the stupendous task that Mr. Lincoln had to contend with at the opening of his administration. He was compelled to assume the direction of the war, because of the infirmities and incapacity of General Scott, although he was entirely ignorant of military affairs, and had no technical knowledge of the science of war. He was faced with the problem of finding a competent commander to take charge of the armies in the field. He was responsible for the mobilization of a huge army, which was necessary for the defense of the nation. Furthermore, it was a political war, and everything must be planned with a view to political consequences. It was not a struggle between rival powers, nor for conquest, but for the preservation of the Union. With inexperienced commanders, a divided cabinet, public clamor dinning in his ears, his mind harassed and perplexed by a multitude of duties, it would have taxed the genius of Napoleon. And yet President Lincoln, by a supreme effort, overcame all these obstacles, and not only prevented the dissolution of the Union, but even accomplished the destruction of the slave power, and the removal of that curse from the American people.

Abraham Lincoln is generally recognized as the ablest military strategist of the Civil War, not excepting Grant and Sherman, despite the fact that when the Rebellion broke out, he had had no experience in warfare. It was Lincoln who directed and saved from ruin the Army of the Potomac, after the crushing defeats at Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville. It was he who originated and carried into effect the Blockade, which was the death knell of the Confederacy. It was Lincoln, also, who submitted a plan of campaign for the suppression of the Rebellion. And it was our martyred president who planned the Reconstruction of the Union, after the surrender of Lee at Appomattox. Immediately after the Battle of Bull Run, Lincoln devoted every spare moment to the study of military tactics and to examining a map of the battlefront. A shelf in his private library was filled with histories of great campaigns, and such books of military authorities which might afford him valuable information. He undertook the preparation of a plan of campaign precisely as he had been accustomed to prepare for a trial at court, and before many days, his quick perceptions, his retentive memory, and his reasoning powers had given him a wider knowledge than was possessed by any of his generals. This knowledge of the military situation is illustrated by his correspondence with the various commanders, his memoranda concerning the movements of the troops and his instructions to the Secretary of War.

In his plan of campaign, Lincoln showed that he had considered every angle of the war. He proposed to capture all the rebel forts on the Mississippi, thereby cutting the Confederacy in half, and checking the supplies that were being transported across the river to the Southern armies. He proposed to maintain an army along the Potomac to menace Richmond, while a military force would be sweeping down through Tennessee and along the Cumberland River. And then, to prevent the Confederacy from being supplied by European goods, he proposed to blockade all the Southern ports. Lincoln fully realized the magnitude of this project. The United States did not possess enough warships to patrol the coast of Virginia. But the President went grimly about the task of building up the navy until at the end of the war, every mile of the Confederate shore was watched by the vigilant eye of the Federal coast-guard.

Lincoln's chief problem during the war was the necessity of finding a capable commander who could take charge of the armies in the field. Undoubtedly, if his generals had followed his instructions the war would have terminated a few years sooner, but thwarted at every step by his unscrupulous and incompetent officers the President was extremely fortunate in accomplishing what he did. When the Rebellion broke out, all the generals of any ability at all had been Southerners and they had resigned as fast as their native states seceded. General Scott, the commander-in-chief, was too old to lead the army in person and the necessity of having an active commander in the field was emphasized by the disastrous Battle of Bull Run. Lincoln's first choice for the position was General G. B. McClellan, the brightest and most conspicuous of the younger officers and a graduate of West Point, who was credited with saving West Virginia for the Union by a dashing campaign in that section. Unfortunately, the honors that were showered upon McClellan turned his head. He very soon developed signs of vanity and insubordination and even showed great contempt for Mr. Lincoln. But all these weaknesses would have been forgotten if McClellan had shown himself capable for directing the army. The General, however, either did not understand the situation, or else was unfit for the position. His inactivity finally exhausted the admirable patience of the President who removed him from the command after the battle of Antietam. McClellan is but one example of the many popular idols of the public who proved to be incapable and worthless for carrying on war. The arrogance of Halleck, Fremont and Pope clearly showed the President that he had as much to fear from his own officers as from the enemy.

It is a well known fact that Lincoln was the man who directed the destinies of the Army of the Potomac after the overwhelming defeats of Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville. It was here that that superior knowledge of his enabled him to grasp the reins from the failing hands of Burnside and Hooker and guide the army to safety. His instructions alone saved the Union forces from being ruined and his commands to Hooker on a means of retreat rescued that gentleman from an embarrassing predicament. Lincoln was truly a man of determination and iron will. In times of crisis his generals found him calm and resourceful; in great emergencies he was prompt, cool and clear-sighted, and under the shock of defeat he was brave and hopeful. For four years Lincoln could not rely on one officer to carry out his orders, and it was not until Grant was appointed commander-in-chief that he relaxed his undying vigilance.

Memorabilia

The personality of Abraham Lincoln grows dim with the flight of years. And yet his great force of character will always live. Without doubt, this splendid character, which was sorely tried and never found wanting kept him from being overcome by the opposing forces, both from the North and South. His remarkable patience at the blunders of the Federal generals, and at the disheartening defeats, his admirable self control, in the face of the most trying circumstances, and his supreme magnanimity in overlooking the presumption of McClellan, Fremont and other Union commanders serve to elevate Abraham Lincoln to a niche in the Hall of Fame. His wonderful achievements in preserving life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness for this great nation, has made him the greatest man of his generation. And we shall quote from Lincoln's own words to illustrate the fact that because of his supreme sacrifice "this government of the people, by the people and for the people" has "not perished from the earth."

As a fitting termination to this essay, I have composed a short poem to the memory of Abraham Lincoln:

When the nation was torn 'mid storm and strife,
And courage was running low,
Lincoln, the man of destiny,
Rose up to meet the foe.

The Rebellion could not have endured,
Crushed by his strong hand,
And life and liberty he insured
To all throughout the land.

This Preserver of the Union,
He was every inch a man,
And he rightly holds the title
Of an All American.
